Dixie Farmers Fayette Guests

YANKEE KNOWHOW—Charles Haigler (back to camera) tells a group of 27 North Carolina farmers some of the ins and outs of Hereford beef breeding business, in which he is engaged. The visitors were touring Ohio farms to pick up some agricultural knowhow for their own work. (Record-Herald photo)

A group of North Carolina farmers are traveling through Ohio today with a thorough examination of Fayette County agricultural knowhow to look back on.

The men—27 in all—toured three Fayette County farms Tuesday afternoon as a part of a junket through Yankee agricultural areas. Guiding them through this area was County Agent W. W. Montgomery.

Farms visited included Charles Haigler's Hereford farm, Kermit Knox's Landrace hog farm and Marvin Dement's Brown Swiss dairy cattle farm.

Sponsored by the North Carolina Extension Service, the trip was designed to give the men some tips on farming that they could take back home. Most of the men are engaged in growing hogs, peanuts or cotton.

At the Haigler farm on State Route 734 the men had a chance to inspect several breeding bulls that the Haiglers are raising. They were shown three of the top bulls in this year's crop and— for comparison—three of the least satisfactory.

Near Jeffersonville, at the Knox farm, the group looked over specimens of the Landrace breed, which is still comparatively uncommon in this country. Landrace sows have been coming into the U. S. only during the last 10 years.

Dement's farm on Route 70 is engaged in dairy production, and the men had an opportunity to observe a Brown Swiss dairy herd. Accompanying the group was P. H. Jameson, county agent for Northampton County, N. C., from which the group came.

Touring Ross and Fayette counties Tuesday, the men were in Clark County Wednesday and were due to go on to Indiana.

$344,005 in Taxes Allocated

Settlement checks went out from the county auditor's office Tuesday and made Fayette County the third county in Ohio to get its tax money allocated.

The checks were dated July 30—just ten days after the money and books were turned over to Auditor Harry Allen by the Treasurer Charles A. Fabb.

Taxes totaled $344,005.27—sum of the collected real estate and inheritance taxes in July 20.

Largest single amount went to one receiver—schools. Checks for $153,012.62 were sent out for the various school districts from the $251,446.08 real estate tax fund.

Of the school disbursement, $91,546.03 went to the Union-Miami Trace School District. Sub-allotments of this sum include: $13,743.34 for Jeffersonville, $2,718.85 for Paint, $12,638.38 for Bloomingburg and $62,445.46 for the Union-Miami Trace subsection.

Among other school districts, $56,207.28 was sent to the Washington C. H. schools, $2,680.12 to New Holland, $448.49 to Green-

view, $3.83 to Midway and $2,726.89 to Buck Run.

The state skimmed $2,786.86 off the real estate fund, while a sum of $41,802.40 went to the county.

TO TOWNSHIPS went $9,257.63 of the real estate fund. Breakdown of that includes for Concord, $875; Greene, $92.48; Jasper, $779.64; Jefferson, $1,491.62; Madison, $707.06; Marion, $498.14; Paint, $602.76; Perry, $308.02; Union, $2,308.74; Union - Washington C. H. Cemetery, $211.92; and Wayne, $1,019.89.

Corporations claimed $16,489.96 of the real estate money, with New Holland (the part in Fayette County) getting $68.37; Bloomingburg, $440.98; and Washington C. H., $15,981.51.

Last Union Vet Growing Weaker

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Albert Woolson, sole Union Army survivor of the Civil War, appears today to be weakening, attendants at St. Luke's Hospital say.

Woolson, suffering from a lung congestion, went into a coma early Saturday and has been unconscious since. He has been hospitalized several times since celebrating his 109th birthday Feb. 11.

Ohio Soil Bank Agreements Already Worth $4 Million

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio farmers already have signed soil bank acreage reserve agreements entitling them to payments of more than $4 million.

That is the report from Wallace Barr, Ohio State University agricultural extension economist, based on incomplete returns. Barr says tenant farmers have until Aug. 31 to sign agreements, so final figures will not be available until Sept. 1.

The total to date averages out to $492 per farm.

Barr said corn led the list of crops which Ohio farmers placed in acreage reserve, followed by wheat and tobacco.

Here is a partial county by county breakdown of the number of farmers who have signed soil bank agreements, as reported officially by the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, U.S. Department of Agriculture. There have been

Three other corporations, Milledgeville, Octa and Jeffers onville, had overdrafts and will get nothing.

A sum of $1,345.98 was taken from the fund and earmarked for ditches. To pay off the hospital bonds, went $4,180.24, while for the hospital addition bond, went $6,270.36. For Mt. Logan tuberculosis hospital $3,483.53 was set aside.

The Health Department gets $8,145.39, while the remaining $4,671.13 goes for auditor's and treasurer's fees.

From the $92,559.19 inheritance tax fund, money was set aside for the state, for townships and corporations and for auditor's and treasurer's fees.

The state gets $43,177.84 as its share, while auditor's and treasurer's fees amount to $3,084.58.

Of the fund for townships and corporations, the breakdown includes: Greene $63.86; Jasper $15,671.82; Jefferson $2,380.59; Paint $14,322.93; Perry $626.93; Union $689.42; Wayne $1,932.19; Jeffersonville $42.57; Milledgeville $185.23; and Washington C. H. $3,349.89.

Other disbursements from the township and corporation fund included a $61.32 check to Deer Creek one of $130.04 to Jefferson Township in Greene County; one of $6,056.19 to Perry Township in Pickaway County; and one of $783.79 to Concord Township in Pickaway County.

British Said Ready To Use Force in Suez

Dulles in London Reportedly To Urge Moderate Approach

LONDON (AP)—An authoritative British source said today Britain is ready to use force if necessary, including the reoccupation of the Suez Canal Zone, to keep the canal open to world shipping.

The informant is an official of Prime Minister Eden's government, but he declined to be identified by name or position.

He said Britain has not asked, and does not intend asking, the United States to join in any military measures which this country may take as a result of Egypt's nationalization of the canal.

Britain has, however, called upon the United States to give political support in the event military action is taken, he said. France and some British Commonwealth countries were described as backing this attitude.

There was no official confirmation from either the British Foreign Office or the U.S. Embassy.

The information was given out as U.S. Secretary of State Dulles talked with Eden, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau at a hurriedly arranged "work uncheon."

Dulles, who only Sunday said he had no plans to come here, arrived from Washington by plane this morning. He is thought to have been sent by President Eisenhower to urge moderation upon the French and British.

The United States broadly supports Anglo-French objections to the canal nationalization and also seeks ways of guaranteeing free passage through the canal, which Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has pledged to do.

But thus far the United States has balked at endorsing decisions which it feels might lead to a shooting war.

THE FOREIGN ministers were to open their first formal session after a two-day talk between Dulles and Pineau. U. S. Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon was summoned from Paris to join the meetings.

In the talks so far, all three nations were reported to favor control of the canal by some kind of international body. But the United States appeared to differ with the French and British on how to organize the body and how to get Egypt to accept it.

So far, the U. S. tendency has been to moderate European tempers and shy off from the use of force. The British and French papers have been sharply critical of this attitude.

Triple Slayer Captured by Chicago Cops

CHICAGO (AP)—Lawrence Neumann, 28, was captured today in an alley on the near West Side and, police said, admitted the three killings for which he had been hunted for two months.

Neumann was taken without a struggle about 3 a. m., police said. Two hundred police surrounded a three-mile-square area searching for the fugitive gunman after two detectives earlier reported exchanging shots with a man they believed was Neumann.

The bespectacled ex-convict eluded police squads for about two hours before a woman resident of the area discovered him crouching on her back porch.

Neumann attempted to flee but was captured by police who heard the woman scream. Police said Neumann was wanted for the slaying June 8 of Max Epstein, 50, part owner of a North Side tavern; Mrs. Lois Gates, 27, a dice girl, and John Keller, 49, a news vendor.

Mrs. Gates and Epstein were shot in Epstein's tavern and Keller was shot down when he inadvertently blocked the killer's escape route.

Police said Neumann had been arrested in the tavern May 9 for creating a disturbance and apparently returned to settle a grudge.

Adlai's Chances Heightened As Kefauver Abandons Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver's withdrawal appears to have heightened Adlai Stevenson's chances to win the Democratic presidential nomination again on an early convention ballot.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, however, maintained a show of confidence and some of his backers contended that his prospects had been improved despite Kefauver's appeal to his supporters to switch to Stevenson.

Kefauver withdrew from the race late yesterday and said that in the interest of Democratic unity and victory he would support Stevenson at the party convention opening in Chicago a week from Monday.

Prior to Kefauver's withdrawal, the latest Associated Press tabulation had given him an indicated first-ballot strength of 164½ votes, compared with 371 for Stevenson and 136 for Harriman. Nomination will require 686½.

Stevenson said in Chicago he shares Kefauver's hope "that we Democrats, united by a common purpose, can soon close ranks and get on with this fateful campaign."

Harriman said in New York that Kefauver's withdrawal clears the air, and he added:

"His delegates are now free. I've asked them to join me in the cause I stand for. Many have already told me they will do so."

Harriman contended he will get more than half the delegates who had been pledged to Kefauver.

In Frankfort, Ky., Gov. A. B. Chandler showed elation over the withdrawal of Kefauver and declared that "truthfully, I now think I will be second on the first ballot."

Chandler's first reaction when hearing the news from his executive secretary was "Well, this beats them both." He said that "This definitely moves me up into a better position."

In Columbus, Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today his chances for nomination at the Democratic National Convention now are "less than nil."

"I have repeatedly said that my chances at the convention were nil," Lausche stated. "Following Kefauver's withdrawal, they are less than nil."

The governor declined to say whether he still plans to allow his name to go before the convention as a presidential aspirant.

Lausche will go to the conven-

5 More Cons Smash Legs In Protest

BUFORD, Ga. (AP)—An inquiry into mass leg-breaking at Georgia Rock Quarry Prison was ordered after five more convicts smashed their legs yesterday with sledge hammers.

The new outburst of self-mutilation occurred during a 30-minute afternoon rest period as did an earlier demonstration against the heavy work load in the hot sun.

All told, 27 white and 14 Negro convicts have pounded their legs at the same quarry site at the prison. Examination at the hospital at Reidsville taken by ambulance, showed all but five of the first group of 36 had fractured leg bones. At least eight had compound fractures.

The prisoners complained that their wheelbarrows were too heavy, other work too hard and the sun too hot.

More Blood Used Here than Given

Bloodmobile To Be Here Thursday

More blood has been used for transfusions at Memorial Hospital here during the first six months of this year than Fayette County has donated to the Red Cross blood bank.

Figures compiled for the first half of the year show 617 pints have been used at the hospital and Red Cross records show only 460 pints have been given.

The blood bank's mobile unit is coming to Washington C. H. again Thursday for its fourth call of the year. It is to be set up in the First Christian Church at 10 a. m. and remain there until 4 p. m.

The county's quota is 150 pints,

tion with 54 of Ohio's 58 votes pledged to him.

One of the four not pledged to Lausche, William R. Thom of Canton, said he would support Stevenson and that he hoped Kefauver would be Stevenson's running mate.

Both Stevenson and Kefauver said in response to questions there had been no deal between them. Kefauver said he is not a candidate for the vice presidential nomination but he did not close the door to accepting it.

Stevenson said "there are a number of qualified men" acceptable to him if he wins the top spot "and I include among those Sen. Kefauver." He added that "there have never been any negotiations by me (with Kefauver), or by anyone associated with me."

Harriman, who did not contest in any of the party preferential primaries with Stevenson and Kefauver, said, "The Democrats want a fighting leader and I am sure I can fill that post."

"I will not withdraw," he said. "Never."

A suggestion that he do so came from Mark R. Holloran of St. Louis, a Democratic national committeeman and backer of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for the presidential nomination.

"If the race is over," Holloran said, "it is over and that's all there is to it."

Shots Punctuate Chase North of City

Orient Escapee Seized, Pal Outruns Officers

A fleet-footed, 51-year-old escapee from the state institution at Orient eluded pursuing officers in a cornfield north of the city Tuesday afternoon, but his 27-year-old companion was captured during a chase punctuated by shots fired into the air.

It all began about 3:30 p. m. when a resident of the Logtown area complained to Sheriff Orland Hays that someone apparently had broken into her home, although nothing seemed to be missing.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays, following up the call, spotted two men on the B&O Railroad tracks between Route 38 and Delaware St. The pair ran when they saw the sheriff's department cruiser, and the deputy gave chase.

Tipped off by radio, police dispatched a cruiser to the scene, and Patrolman Kenneth Sanderson captured one of the men as they ran through fields north of the tracks after the officer had fired into the air.

Sheriff Hays also got into the chase, and fired into the air, but the second fugitive vanished in cornfields between Hickory Lane and the Bloomingburg - New Holland road.

The man seized by Patrolman Sanderson identified himself as James May, 27, and admitted that he and his companion, Charles Adams, 51, had escaped from Orient Monday. He said they had been living on berries since leaving the institution.

Residents of the area in which the two men were spotted have been asked to be on the lookout for the speedy Adams.

GOP Nomination Issue Remains Unanswered

Nixon Still Labeled Acceptable, but Not Necessarily Preferred

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today declined to state any preference for a five presidential nominee to run with him in the 1956 election.

Eisenhower said at his news conference that Vice President Nixon is acceptable to him, but that he is not going to foreclose Republican convention action on some other possible vice presidential candidate.

Eisenhower said he himself has not been renominated and he is not going beyond what he already has said about Nixon as a member of the administration team.

In previous exchanges on the subject Eisenhower has said he would be "delighted" to have Nixon on any ticket with him. He has praised Nixon's contribution to the administration.

He declined specifically to say whether Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts would be as acceptable for second place.

HAROLD STASSEN has proposed that Herter be substituted for Nixon.

Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament aide, contends that an Eisenhower-Herter ticket would be 6 per cent stronger in November than an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

A reporter asked Eisenhower whether his renewed endorsement of Nixon and his refusal to name any other candidate didn't promote the conclusion that he was for Nixon. Eisenhower replied the reporters had the right to place any interpretation they wanted on his remarks.

Vice President Nixon is perfectly acceptable to him as he was in 1952, Eisenhower said.

He added he saw no reason to draw the conclusion that he preferred Nixon, but he said reporters could do so if they chose.

Asked if he would prepare a list of possible vice presidential candidates as he did in 1952, Eisenhower said he hadn't made any list yet. If he did, he added, he would not give it to any but the most confidential friends. He said he wasn't going to be drawn into any naming of candidates who would be acceptable.

He said very little was said between him and Stassen when Stassen told him in advance of Stassen's July 25 announcement that he was backing Herter.

Stassen didn't come to him for advice but only to tell him what Stassen expected to do, Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower said he firmly believes in the right of any citizen to express his preference as to political candidates.

Asked if he expected Stassen to return to work after the four weeks' leave is up, Eisenhower said that so far as he knows now Stassen will return.

Much of the questioning at Eisenhower's news conference was (Please Turn to Page Two)

New Checkup Shows Ike in 'Fine Shape'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower got a new physical examination today and the White House physician reported him "in fine shape."

The physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, told newsmen that so far as the forthcoming presidential campaign is concerned Eisenhower "will be able to do just as much as he would have without this attack."

Snyder was alluding to the emergency surgery Eisenhower underwent June 9 for relief of partial blockage of the intestine.

The illness was an acute attack of ileitis or inflammation of a portion of the small intestine.

At present the physician said Eisenhower's weight is running at around 162 pounds, about the same as when he was discharged from the hospital June 20.

But Snyder said that so far as weight is concerned the President is "doing OK."

At the time of his Sept. 24 heart attack Eisenhower weighed 178 pounds. After the attack his doctors put him on a nonfat diet which brought his weight down to the neighborhood of 172 pounds.

This being the heart of vacation time and all... how about a little trip to Alaska by automobile?

Don't let the time worry you. If you're tough enough, you could make it to Ankorage and back in your two weeks. A young Washington C. H. man and his bride have sort of blazed the trail, set the pace.

Airman and Mrs. Winton Yates made the approximately 4,500 miles there in eight days... and were held up three days at Nelson, B. C., by landslides, 16 of them. Besides, the last 1,200 miles or so was over a gravel road of the Alcan Highway.

Airman Yates, who has been stationed at a U. S. base near Ankorage for some time, came back home about a month ago and was married. The honeymoon of the young couple was the return trip to Alaska.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Yates, 517 Gregg St., have just received a letter from the bride describing the trip. They would have made it in almost record time, except for those landslides. It took a lot of driving, not so fast, but long hours where the days are longer.

The letter said they had found a house to start housekeeping, that the blueberries grow wild and big like the mosquitoes.

tion with 54 of Ohio's 58 votes pledged to him.

One of the four not pledged to Lausche, William R. Thom of Canton, said he would support Stevenson and that he hoped Kefauver would be Stevenson's running mate.

Both Stevenson and Kefauver said in response to questions there had been no deal between them. Kefauver said he is not a candidate for the vice presidential nomination but he did not close the door to accepting it.

Stevenson said "there are a number of qualified men" acceptable to him if he wins the top spot "and I include among those Sen. Kefauver." He added that "there have never been any negotiations by me (with Kefauver), or by anyone associated with me."

Harriman, who did not contest in any of the party preferential primaries with Stevenson and Kefauver, said, "The Democrats want a fighting leader and I am sure I can fill that post."

"I will not withdraw," he said. "Never."

A suggestion that he do so came from Mark R. Holloran of St. Louis, a Democratic national committeeman and backer of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for the presidential nomination.

"If the race is over," Holloran said, "it is over and that's all there is to it."

Shots Punctuate Chase North of City

Orient Escapee Seized, Pal Outruns Officers

A fleet-footed, 51-year-old escapee from the state institution at Orient eluded pursuing officers in a cornfield north of the city Tuesday afternoon, but his 27-year-old companion was captured during a chase punctuated by shots fired into the air.

It all began about 3:30 p. m. when a resident of the Logstown area complained to Sheriff Orland Hays that someone apparently had broken into his home, although nothing seemed to be missing.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays, following up the call, spotted two men on the B&O Railroad tracks between Route 38 and Delaware St. The pair ran when they saw the sheriff's department cruiser, and the deputy gave chase.

Tipped off by radio, police dispatched a cruiser to the scene, and Patrolman Kenneth Sanderson captured one of the men as they ran through fields north of the tracks after the officer had fired into the air.

Sheriff Hays also got into the chase, and fired into the air, but the second fugitive vanished in cornfields between Hickory Lane and the Bloomingburg - New Holland road.

The man seized by Patrolman Sanderson identified himself as James May, 27, and admitted that he and his companion, Charles Adams, 51, had escaped from Orient Monday. He said they had been living on berries since leaving the institution.

Residents of the area in which the two men were spotted have been asked to be on the lookout for the speedy Adams.

Burma Asks Reds Withdraw Troops

RANGOON (AP)—Burma today pressed Communist China to withdraw Red troops which military sources say have occupied about 1,000 square miles of Burmese territory.

DENVER (AP)—A third day of pounding rain flooded southern sections of this city yesterday. Rising water forced hundreds of families from their homes and pushed damage estimates into the millions of dollars. City officials declared an emergency. More than 600 regular and auxiliary police were rushed into the stricken area. Water ran two to three feet deep in streets, paralyzed traffic, and poured into homes.

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina has proposed formation of a South Atlantic defense pact aimed at "preserving the security of the American Continent."

LONDON (AP)—A proposal to end the drafting of young Britons for two years of military service has been rejected by the House of Commons 308-240.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus sailed toward a second term today, the easy victor over four opponents in Arkansas' Democratic primary. The govern-nor took the lead with the first trickle of returns and never relinquished it.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Most top officials of the steel industry said today they are not alarmed by the delay in a final settlement of the month-old strike that appeared ended last Friday when an agreement was worked out.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Betty Lou Fitzpatrick, 2½, drowned yesterday in the bathtub at her home.

AKRON (AP)—Three rubber companies—Goodyear, General and Goodrich—have announced price boosts of 2 to 3½ per cent on several lines of tires and tubes, saying increased labor and materials costs made them necessary.

NEW YORK (AP)—One union started a strike against the nation's two biggest aluminum producers today. A second union held off another threatened walkout against the same two giant firms.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has signed a bill supplying $3.7 billion to 54 nations for the next year to reinforce their armed services and economies in the cold war with Communism.

GOP Nomination Issue Remains Unanswered

Nixon Still Labeled Acceptable, but Not Necessarily Preferred

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today declined to state any preference for a five presidential nominee to run with him in the 1956 election.

Eisenhower said at his news conference that Vice President Nixon is acceptable to him, but that he is not going to foreclose Republican convention action on some other possible vice presidential candidate.

Eisenhower said he himself has not been renominated and he is not going beyond what he already has said about Nixon as a member of the administration team.

In previous exchanges on the subject Eisenhower has said he would be "delighted" to have Nixon on any ticket with him. He has praised Nixon's contribution to the administration.

He declined specifically to say whether Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts would be as acceptable for second place.

HAROLD STASSEN has proposed that Herter be substituted for Nixon.

Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament aide, contends that an Eisenhower-Herter ticket would be 6 per cent stronger in November than an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

A reporter asked Eisenhower whether his renewed endorsement of Nixon and his refusal to name any other candidate didn't promote the conclusion that he was for Nixon. Eisenhower replied the reporters had the right to place any interpretation they wanted on his remarks.

Vice President Nixon is perfectly acceptable to him as he was in 1952, Eisenhower said.

He added he saw no reason to draw the conclusion that he preferred Nixon, but he said reporters could do so if they chose.

Asked if he would prepare a list of possible vice presidential candidates as he did in 1952, Eisenhower said he hadn't made any list yet. If he did, he added, he would not give it to any but the most confidential friends. He said he wasn't going to be drawn into any naming of candidates who would be acceptable.

He said very little was said between him and Stassen when Stassen told him in advance of Stassen's July 23 announcement that he was backing Herter.

Stassen didn't come to him for advice but only to tell him what Stassen expected to do, Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower said he firmly believes in the right of any citizen to express his preference as to political candidates.

Asked if he expected Stassen to return to work after the four weeks' leave is up, Eisenhower said that so far as he knows now Stassen will return.

Much of the questioning at Eisenhower's news conference was on the subject of the vice presidential pick.

New Checkup Shows Ike in 'Fine Shape'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower got a new physical examination today and the White House physician reported him "in fine shape."

The physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, told newsmen that so far as the forthcoming presidential campaign is concerned Eisenhower "will be able to do just as much as he would have without this attack."

Snyder was alluding to the emergency surgery Eisenhower underwent June 9 for relief of partial blockage of the intestine.

The illness was an acute attack of ileitis or inflammation of a portion of the small intestine.

At present the physician said Eisenhower's weight is running at around 162 pounds, about the same as when he was discharged from the hospital June 29.

But Snyder said that so far as weight is concerned the President is "doing OK."

At the time of his Sept. 24 heart attack Eisenhower weighed 178 pounds. After the attack his doctors put him on a nonfat diet which brought his weight down to the neighborhood of 172 pounds.

$344,005 in Taxes Allocated

Settlement checks went out from the county auditor's office Tuesday and made Fayette County the third county in Ohio to get its tax money allocated.

The checks were dated July 30—just ten days after the money and books were turned over to Auditor Harry Allen by the Treasurer Charles A. Fabb.

Taxes totaled $344,005.27—sum of the collected real estate and inheritance taxes in July 20.

Largest single amount went to one receiver—schools. Checks for $153,012.62 were sent out for the various school districts from the $251,446.08 real estate tax fund.

Of the school disbursement, $91,546.03 went to the Union-Miami Trace School District. Sub-allotments of this sum include: $13,743.24 for Jeffersonville, $2,718.85 for Paint, $12,638.38 for Bloomingburg and $62,445.46 for the Union-Miami Trace subsection.

Among other school districts, $56,207.28 was sent to the Washington C. H. schools, $2,080.12 to New Holland, $448.49 to Green-

view, $3.83 to Midway and $2,726.89 to Buck Run.

The state skimmed $2,786.86 off the real estate fund, while a sum of $41,802.40 went to the county.

TO TOWNSHIPS went $9,257.64 of the real estate fund. Breakdown of that includes for Concord, $875; Greene, $92.48; Jasper, $779.64; Jefferson, $1,491.62; Madison, $707.06; Marion, $498.14; Paint, $602.76; Paint - Bloomingburg Cemetery, $362.30; Perry, $308.02; Union, $2,308.74; Union - Washington C. H. Cemetery, $211.92; and Wayne, $1,019.89.

Corporations claimed $16,489.96 of the real estate money, with New Holland (the part in Fayette County) getting $68.37; Bloomingburg, $440.08; and Washington C. H., $15,981.51.

Last Union Vet Growing Weaker

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Albert Woolson, sole Union Army survivor of the Civil War, appears today to be weakening, attendants at St. Luke's Hospital say.

Woolson, suffering from a lung congestion, went into a coma early Saturday and has been unconscious since. He has been hospitalized several times since celebrating his 109th birthday Feb. 11.

Ohio Soil Bank Agreements Already Worth $4 Million

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio farmers already have signed soil bank acreage reserve agreements entitling them to payments of more than $4 million.

That is the report from Wallace Barr, Ohio State University agricultural extension economist, based on incomplete returns. Barr says tenant farmers have until Aug. 31 to sign agreements, so final figures will not be available until Sept. 1.

The total to date averages out to $492 per farm.

Barr said corn led the list of crops which Ohio farmers placed in acreage reserve, followed by wheat and tobacco.

Here is a partial county by county breakdown of the number of farmers who have signed soil bank agreements, as reported unofficially by the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, U. S. Department of Agriculture. There have been

Three other corporations, Mil-ledgeville, Octa and Jeffers-onville, had overdrafts and will get nothing.

A sum of $1,345.98 was taken from the fund and earmarked for ditches. To pay off the hospital bonds, went $4,180.24, while for the hospital addition bond, went $6,270.36. For Mt. Logan tuberculosis hospital $3,483.53 was set aside.

The Health Department gets $8,145.39, while the remaining $4,671.13 goes for auditor's and treasurer's fees.

From the $92,559.19 inheritance tax fund, money was set aside for the state, for townships and corporations and for auditor's and treasurer's fees.

The state gets $43,177.84 as its share, while auditor's and treasurer's fees amount to $3,084.58.

Of the fund for townships and corporations, the breakdown includes: Greene $63.86; Jasper $15,677.82; Jefferson $2,380.59; Paint $14,322.93; Perry $626.93; Union $689.42; Wayne $1,932.19; Jeffersonville $42.57; Milledgeville $185.23; and Washington C. H. $3,349.89.

Other disbursements from the township and corporation fund included a $61.32 check to Deer Creek one of $130.04 to Jefferson Township in Greene County; one of $6,056.19 to Perry Township in Pickaway County; and one of $783.79 to Concord Township in Pickaway County.

no reports yet from 20 of Ohio's 88 counties. Figures given are not final totals, since local offices submit lists on a weekly basis.

$2½ Billion Released for Highway Work

First Action Taken To Activate New Federal Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks today allotted $2½ billion to the states to speed construction of first sections of the new 41,000-mile road network.

The money, for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, is the largest amount ever provided for roads at one time in history.

The amounts apportioned to each state included $106,800,394 for Ohio.

This second division of funds for the new road building plan brings to $3,675,000,000 already set for the states.

Immediately after President Eisenhower signed the federal highway legislation June 29, Weeks moved to provide $1,125,000,000 to the states for the current fiscal year which began July 1.

He said at the time that he expected the first construction to get underway within three months and that the program should be rolling by Jan. 1.

THE FEDERAL aid road program calls for a spending of about $33 billion in the next 13 to 15 years. The bulk of the funds provided by Congress will go for construction of the 41,000-mile interstate system.

The federal government provides 90 per cent and state and local governments 10 per cent for construction of the interstate roads. On building primary and secondary state roads and urban highways the federal government and the states put up the money on a 50-50 basis.

To pay for the cost of the roads, Congress boosted taxes on gasoline and other highway fuels, tires and tubes. The new taxes will raise nearly $15 billion between now and 1972, coupled with existing levies to pay for the program.

Meanwhile, in Columbus, Ohio, Gov. Frank J. Lausche said that his state highway department acted in "justice to every area of the state" when it required 10 major cities to pay 10 per cent of federal interstate highway costs.

In a letter to Mayor Frank X. Kryzan of Youngstown, Lausche said he believes officials of other large municipalities eventually will see that there might be substantial justice in the course taken by the highway department.

Kryzan had written the governor a letter, commending the state's formula for distribution of interstate funds in urban areas. Akron and Canton have also agreed to the state formula.

The federal government will provide 90 per cent of such funds and local governments put up the balance.

"The highway department officials have no purpose of being partial to any segment of the state, either rural or urban," Lausche's letter said.

Army Officer, $11,830 Missing

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—Ft. Ord authorities enlisted police and FBI aid today in a search for an Army captain who is missing with his company payroll of $11,830, all in small bills.

Police say Capt. James T. Seilley, 33, commanding Company K, 10th Infantry, 5th Division, drew the company payroll at 8 a. m. yesterday in the company of a guard. He returned to his company area, dismissed his guard and disappeared.

His 1956 model car was found beside the old river road about three miles north of Ft. Ord partially concealed in bushes. The captain's uniform and pistol were in the machine.

Reports on Fair Given Lions Club

$603 from Programs Divided with Board

Reports on the club's activities at the Fair here last week and an illustrated talk on the World Conservation Exposition and Ploving Matches in Sweden last year high-lighted Tuesday night's meeting of the Washington C. H. Lions Club, following dinner at the Country Club.

Ten members of the Fair Board, half of them members of the club, were at the meeting as guests and to receive the board's $301.87 share of the proceeds from the sale of race programs. The club also got $301.87 from the even split of the profit.

Fair directors at the meeting were introduced by John Sagar, both a Lion and a director. As each was presented, he outlined briefly his duties and responsibilities for putting on the Fair. They were Frank E. Ellis, secretary; H. H. Denton; Mac Dews and Walter Dreisbach, all members of the Lions Club; Ray Brandenburg, board president; George A. Steen; Ralph Nisley, Sam B. Marting and Walter E. Sollars.

When the Fair Board's check for its share of the race program proceeds was presented, the sales were broken down on a day-by-day basis: $18 on Wednesday, 1929 on Thursday and 592 on Friday. Saturday's races were rained out.

Harry Thraill topped the salesmen with 516 and got the T-bone steaks put up by Robert Terhune as an incentive.

TOM MARK, reporting on the coming of the Red Cross bloodmobile here Thursday, told the 92 Lions at the meeting that during the first six months of this year, 617 pints of blood had been used at Memorial Hospital and that Fayette County had given only 460 pints.

The Washington C. H. Lions Club and the other three Lions Clubs in the county (Bloomington, Jeffersonville and Good Hope) are sponsoring the bloodmobile visit this time.

President John Breiner presided at the business portion of the meeting.

Robert Minshall, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Russell Webb of Adams County, who had attended the World Conservation Exposition and Ploving Matches in Sweden last year.

Mrs. Webb showed colored slides she had made of the exposition in Sweden and gave a complete description of it in her running commentary on the pictures.

Part of Mrs. Webb's farm near Peebles will be in the area used for world exposition there in 1957. Her daughter, Mrs. John Keszig, assisted Mrs. Webb in showing the pictures.

Ray French, at whose country home the next club meeting is to be held, announced that Robert Lytton, Paul Rodenfels, Andrew Loudner, Elmer Reed, Don Gibson and Charles Buxton would head various committees to get things ready for the meeting and the corn-on-the-cob and hamburger supper.

About one million Americans are severe chronic alcoholics.

Former Resident Dies in Columbus

Mrs. Florence Brown, 76, of 1240½ Fair Ave., Columbus, a former resident of Washington C. H., died suddenly about noon Tuesday in Mt. Carmel Hospital following a heart attack. She had been taken to the hospital only a short time before she died.

She and her husband, the late Harry Brown, moved to Columbus about 35 years ago. A former state representative and farmer, he met death when his car was hit by a traction car as he was returning to home from London a few years after moving to Columbus.

She is survived by a daughter, Miss Mary Brown of Columbus and two sons, William and David, both of New York.

Funeral services are to be held in the Shoedinger Funeral Home in Columbus, probably Friday morning, with interment in the Bloomington Cemetery in the afternoon.

Ohio Campaign Spending Rapped

GREENVILLE (AP)—The Democratic candidate for governor, hitting again at what he terms "lavish" campaign expenditures by Ohio Republicans, says 10 per cent of the GOP campaign fund would be enough to finance the Democratic campaign.

Michael V. DiSalle said in a speech here the "lavish campaign being undertaken by the Republicans is a dangerous thing for the state, because sooner or later the public will have to pay for it."

Mrs. Bertha Ferneau Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Bertha Ferneau, 71, of 1009 Lakeview Ave., died at 11:45 p. m. Tuesday in Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient for the last three weeks. She had been in failing health for two years, but seriously ill for only the last two months.

She was a native and life-long resident of Fayette County and a member of McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church and its Gleaners Class and Missionary Society.

She is survived by her husband, E. O. Ferneau; a son, Kenneth Curl; a daughter, Mrs. Harry Fichtner, and a grandchild, all of Washington C. H. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. I. H. Lucas, and a brother, George Keaton, also of Washington C. H.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Gerstner Funeral Home, with Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial is to be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Ike Mum on Veep

Eisenhower's news conference revolved around Stassen's effort to push Nixon off the ticket and replace him with Herter.

Eisenhower has granted Stassen a 30-day leave of absence from his White House job, beginning tomorrow, to pursue his "political activities."

Eisenhower said today he is feeling good but not as well as he did a year ago. He added he has no doubt he would be able to carry on in the presidency for another four years beyond next January.

EISENHOWER was noticeably a bit thinner than when he held his last news conference June 6. But he replied to a barrage of questions during a 30-minute session in a sure voice and seemed to be in a confident mood.

On other subjects Eisenhower had this to say:
Suez—The international crisis generated by Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal is one which must be handled with great care.

Eisenhower added we must make sure that certain rights of the world in connection with use of the great waterway are not abused. The great problem now, he said, is to make sure that the Suez is preserved as an international waterway. Doing that, he added, is vital to the U.S. economy and welfare.

'Banjo King', Attorney Offer Rotary Twin Bill

Through a misunderstanding causing a mixup in dates Rotarians and guests profited happily by a double feature program of unusual interest at the club's regular Tuesday luncheon at the Country Club.

The world-famous "Banjo King", Capt. Eddy Peabody, now with the U. S. Naval Reserve, who in addition also how the enlisted man entering as a youngster had the greatest of all chances to rise in the ranks.

The speaker remarked upon the rapid changes in naval service and made the prediction that "it will be only a short time the United States will have a completely atomic-powered navy."

He related many of his experiences in World War II, especially at Great Lakes Naval Training Station where he organized a band and trained scores of bands, choirs, and other groups by recruiting musicians, many of whom he knew personally, from every available source. The music furnished by these organizations had been almost life-savers to thousands of tired and homesick young men and girls in service, he pointed out.

"I shall never retire from Navy work as long as I can be of any use whatever," he said.

PROGRAM CHAIRMAN Dice paid a tribute to Capt. Peabody at the conclusion of the latter's remarks and then introduced Attorney Hire for an altogether different type of talk.

This speaker because of lack of time reduced his part of the program to a minimum, but he hit the high spots on the reasons why every adult should be concerned with the protection of a properly drawn will which is not a "mysterious" document such as some people think it is.

Hire cited some amusing personal experiences in connection with services he had been called upon to give in the matter of wills, also of the technical legal requirements in regard to wills and how considerable money can be saved through a legally drawn will.

President Robert Lisk thanked all those who had been responsible in bringing this outstanding program to the club.

PREVIOUS to the featured program the club sang birthday greetings for Ed Moser, Attorney Ray Maddox and Howard D. Fogle, all of whom gave the club's youth fund a financial lift.

Club guests present were Rotarians Roy Vandergriff and J. A. Duncan of Greenfield; Albert Heer of Wilmington, new owner of the former Steen Dry Goods Co., who was with George Steen; Dr. E. L. Saadat, of Iran, who was with a Rotarian guest, Dr. Benton V. D. Scott, of Chillicothe, health commissioner for this three-county district; Roger Leaper of Rochester, N. Y., who was with Edmond Woodmansee; Charles Pensyl with Don Wood and the Navy officers who came with Capt. Peabody.

Capt. Peabody, whose present home is in Madison, Wis., did not bring his banjo with him but proved equally as good an entertainer as a speaker, and a great booster for the U. S. Navy.

RELATED how he entered n. a. service as an apprentice seaman and had risen in the ranks until he became a commander. He declared that in his far-reaching fields of activity since retiring as an active naval officer, he never failed to tell the young men whom he found to be interested in U. S. Navy service how they had an opportunity in this way to attend the greatest college on earth in learning the rules for the most satisfactory kind of present day living; tion to being a civilian entertainer, assists the Navy recruiting service, was the first to be called upon as a speaker.

CAPT. PEABODY

The second was Attorney Charles Hire, who held the attention of his audience in a brief but educational talk on "Wills and Codicils".

ACCOMPANYING Capt. Peabody to the club session were Chief Warrant Officer R. E. Hall of Columbus and Chief Machinist Mate P. C. Lee, who is now assigned to naval recruiting service in this county.

Judge Max Dice, program chairman of the July program committee, called upon Robert Haigler who was active in securing the Navy part of the program, to introduce Capt. Peabody. He told of the long naval service through two world wars which this entertainer had given to his country, recalling that during the last World War he had given 6,000 performances in hospitals, camps, bases and on shipboard in addition to organizing bands, orchestras, and other musical groups, and making personal appearances when called upon.

Some Facts About Man's Right-To-Work

Retail sales are regarded as being among the best barometers of business conditions.

They strongly reflect the status of employment, of wages and income and the general health of family pocketbooks.

On the basis of recently reported U. S. Bureau of Census figures retail sales in the nation as a whole increased by an average of 38.4 per cent between 1948 and 1954 in the 12 states having "right to work laws during that period. In the 36 states which had no such laws the increase was considerably less, just 29.9 per cent.

No one claims that right-to-work laws were the sole reason for the difference. However the comparison is important because it has been argued that the right-to-work principle would undermine the economic welfare of working people and cause all manner of financial difficulties in the states adopting it.

Actually, the right-to-work law is in the direct interest of working people. It says, in effect, that a man can join a union or not join, as he wishes, and that in neither case can that be a condition of employment. In other words, he is a free agent. The union must sell itself to him on its merits — not through coercion and the knowledge that he won't be able to get or hold a job if he doesn't join. That cannot help but make for better and more effective unions.

Finally, the right-to-work is as precious a right as any people can possess — and it should legally be considered so. With it there can be no real freedom. It is the firm, unyielding shield that stands between the individual and dictatorship from the employer on the one hand and the labor organization on the other.

The real democratic idea is, not that every man shall be on a level with every other man, but that every one shall have liberty, without hindrance, to be what God made him and that he shall have right to reward for what he accomplishes through his own ability and honest enterprise.

A Loud Yip For a Hotdog

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—In a troubled time in which Nasser holds the Suez Canal and the New York Giants are in last place, let us pause and honor one symbol that stands unchanged.

It is the hotdog, the hungry man's best friend.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce named July as National Hotdog Month, and we admit it is a doggone shame to let August dawn without paying homage to America's favorite delicacy.

The hotdog is, narrowly speaking, no more an American invention than the motor car or ice cream. But, like them, it has become recognized now everywhere, except possibly in Russia, as peculiarly typical of our culture.

The ancestor of the hotdog is the sausage, and the sausage is older than recorded history.

It was undoubtedly broiled by the Greek troops besieging ancient Troy, because blind Homer in the 9th Century B.C. wrote:

"As when a man nears a great glowing fire turns to and fro a sausage, full of fat and blood, anxious to have it quickly roasted, so to and fro dysse tossed, and pondered how to lay hands upon the shameless suitors."

There are almost as many kinds of sausages as there are nationalities. But the modern hotdog, according to culinary scholars, springs from the frankfurter, developed by a forgotten genius in the 16th Century in Frankfurt, Germany.

It is also generally accepted that the frankfurter first won popularity in America at Coney Island, where it was introduced by Charles Feltman, a German immigrant, in 1871.

He put out an all-beef product. Other Coney Island hawkers, quick to try to cash in on his success, began peddling adulterated franks that seemed to have in them everything from chicken feathers to ground up mattress stuffing. Reform elements set up a cry.

Quick to seize on this new political issue, Boss Tweed slapped a $200 license fee on the vendors, and Police Captain Elias Clayton was given the task of "finding out what breed of dog went into the making of frankfurters."

This slighting reference to the possible canine content of frankfurters tickled Coney Island tourists, who promptly began calling them "hotdogs." The name has stuck ever since.

Some historians contend, however, the hotdog sandwich as we know it today didn't come along until the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis in 1904. A concessionaire who loaned customers white gloves to eat the hot moist frankfurters found many of the gloves weren't being returned. So he started wrapping buns around the hotdogs as finger protectors.

Here are a few more important facts and milestones in the career of the hotdog:

Hotdogs became a fixture at baseball games during the World War I in the Polo Grounds here.

In 1937 the skinless frankfurter came into vogue. Last year Americans ate an average of 16.16 hotdogs a person during the peak season between Memorial Day and Labor Day.

Americans this year will consume a billion pounds of hotdogs.

Naturally hotdogs had to enter the atomic age. They did last March. Put in hermetically sealed cans, they were dunked into 18 feet of water and irradiated with gamma rays at the national reactor testing station in Idaho.

The Army Quartermaster people say that these atom-bombed hotdogs, removed from the cans, still retain their flavor and remain unspoiled for six months at room temperature.

Who but a hamburger lover would let a hotdog lie around uneaten for half a year?

The Trials of Harold Stassen

By George Sokolsky

All men in public life suffer from frustrations and disappointments. The concatenations of affairs, the course of events, the interplay of imponderables seem to dominate situations to the annoyance of those who have devoted their lives to what they regard as a public service.

Harold Stassen has the reputation of being an able administrator of a public office, which is not an ignominious item as there are not too many men of real managerial ability in public life. Although only 49 years of age, he has been governor of the state of Minnesota, president of the University of Pennsylvania, a permanent candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency of the United States, and during the Eisenhower administration he has been in charge of the give-away program. He is now the President's Secretary of Peace, in charge of disarmament.

There can be no question but that Stassen's career has been notable. But he is possessed of one character defect that places him in an awkward position vis-a-vis other Republicans. That is his obsession that he ought to be president of the United States.

Certainly, there can be no objection to any man aspiring to the presidency. All boys used to be told by doting parents that the greatness of American consisted in the right of any man to become president, no matter what a dope he might grow up to be. That was said to give the child self-confidence and to instill in him patriotic ideals. Many a mother who found herself big with child while abroad rushed back to the United States to give birth to her son on American soil, only to discover that she gave birth to a girl or that, if a son, he grew up to be a football player with no presidential ambitions at all. Life is full of surprises.

Harold Stassen, however, was different. Never for a moment did he lose the ambition to be president or the conviction that he was just the guy for the job. He always has had an attraction for youth, probably because he has always been so young-looking, so boyish, in appearance. When Stassen, in 1940, realized that he could not get the nomination for himself, he turned his youthful strength over to Willkie and gained some stature by his sacrifice, because the Eastern business men who were then in control of the Republican Party, looked favorably upon Stassen.

However, Tom Dewey and Bob Taft arose to plague Stassen and to reduce his opportunities and when they had exhausted each other, Dwight D. Eisenhower appeared on the scene and took over. Stassen became an Eisenhower man was duly rewarded by being given Paul Hoffman's job as almoner of the United States, giving away its largesse to all nations with a free and generous hand that was so free and so generous that Congress voted him out of office.

Eisenhower then took Stassen into the White House where he was made an assistant to the President, a Secretary of Peace, in charge of universal disarmament. As such negotiations are the especial province of the State Department, Stassen came into conflict not only with John Foster Dulles but with all other persons in the White House who were dealing with foreign policy. Those who complained to President Eisenhower that Stassen treads heavily upon the toes of all others were told that Harold was a great liberal and that the Republicans needed a great liberal.

When the President became ill, some Republicans aspired to be vice president to replace Richard Nixon. Among these was Harold Stassen. There were so many aspirants and they all gave the impression of waiting on Ike's grave even before he died that it was inevitable that the President would solve the problem by keeping the 1952 Ike and Dick ticket.

So Stassen organized his Young Republican contingents in 16 states to put pressure on Eisenhower. He was duly warned that his activities were not pleasing to the President, whereupon he suggested the name of Christian Herter, knowing, as everybody in political life must know, that Herter cannot and, for his health, should not take the job. It was a smart way to start an argument in the hope that Stassen would get it as a compromise, but it was too smart and too palpable and too desperate.

Body May Lose Salt In Heat of Summer

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Is the hot weather getting you down? Then watch your salt supply. Maybe you're not getting enough.

It's more important than ever during the hot summer months for you to guard against salt deficiency. Excessive sweating robs your body of needed salt.

Perspiration contains sodium chloride—or salt.

Inadequate Supply

If your salt supply is inadequate, or has become severely depleted, the blood volume is reduced. This means interference with the supply of oxygen and other elements essential to the body tissues.

Your body doesn't give up easily. It makes strenuous efforts to remain alive. It may even release vital substances from the cells in an attempt to replace the normal balance in the fluids.

When this is necessary, your health is damaged and your life might be in danger.

Usual Symptoms

Symptoms of salt deficiency usually are loss of the will to work, weariness, dizziness, heat cramps or prostration. In some extreme cases, death might even result.

Unless your doctor advises otherwise, it's a good idea to salt your foods liberally during hot weather.

Above all, don't try any self-imposed salt-free or salt-restricted diets this time of the year. Of course, it's never a good idea to try any such diets without the advice of your physician.

Limited Diet

If he has already placed you on a limited salt diet because of kidney heart or liver disease, better check with him again to see whether he wants you to maintain it over the summer months.

In extremely hot weather, a daily ration of salt as high as three-quarters of an ounce might be needed to keep you comfortable. It may be pretty difficult to use that much on your foods and maybe a couple of salt tablets each day will help.

In addition to salt, you also lose a great deal of fluid through perspiration. So drink plenty of water and other fluids. You might need as many as eight glasses a day if the weather is really hot.

WASHINGTON (AP)—What a switch in men and parties!

Ten days ago, so far as is known, Harold E. Stassen and Sen. Estes Kefauver still yearned to move their furniture into the White House. Now Stassen says he has given up on the presidency permanently. Kefauver has given up on it this year, at least.

Nine days ago this month's political conventions looked like a picnic for the Republicans, a cat-and-dog fight for the Democrats. Now the opposite may be true, thanks to Stassen and Kefauver.

When the sun came up July 23 this was the picture:

1. Stassen, a presidential candidate in every election since 1944, wasn't running this year. He didn't have a chance anyway. President Eisenhower was running. There was no reason to think Stassen still didn't have the bug for 1960.

Meanwhile, he seemed content with his job as Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament.

2. The Republicans' professional politicians seemed to have everything so neatly arranged that the delegates to the convention, opening Aug. 20, would have trouble finding something to do until the time came to rubber-stamp the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket again.

Before sundown July 23 Stassen began talking so loudly and long that the Republican convention may turn into a contest over the vice presidency.

Stassen said private polls showed Vice President Nixon would be a "burden" on the ticket—he says now Nixon would lose millions of votes—and should step aside in favor of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as Eisenhower's running mate.

Republican pros jumped him in a hurry, even suggested he resign. Instead, he talked more. Now Eisenhower has permitted him a month's leave to go out and stir up Republican delegates against Nixon.

Then on Sunday Stassen said he is not only not a candidate to be Eisenhower's running mate this year but has forever taken himself out of consideration for the presidency and vice presidency.

Tuesday, before the sun came up, this was the Democratic picture.

A hot convention, opening Aug.

13, with Adlai Stevenson and Kefauver the front-running contenders for the presidential nomination and New York's Gov. Averell Harriman and others scrambling for it too.

Stevenson had a good edge in indicated strength but Kefauver, who practically exhausted himself in 1952 and again this year in pursuit of the Democratic nomination, still hoped, or so it seemed he'd be tapped.

Tuesday, Kefauver, suddenly and unexpectedly, announced he was quitting the race in favor of Stevenson and would give him his support. He said he realized he didn't have a chance. Harriman says he's still running. So there may still be a fight at the convention. And a struggle over a civil rights plan, between Northern and Southern Democrats could bust the convention and the party wide open.

But at the moment things look calmer for the Democrats. Kefauver and Stevenson had nice things to say about each other. This was a switch from their bitterness in the primaries. Kefauver weeks ago had said he had been unpleasant about Stevenson only because "I got mad and lost my head."

Some Facts About Man's Right-To-Work

Retail sales are regarded as being among the best barometers of business conditions.

They strongly reflect the status of employment, of wages and income and the general health of family pocketbooks.

On the basis of recently reported U. S. Bureau of Census figures retail sales in the nation as a whole increased by an average of 38.4 per cent between 1948 and 1954 in the 12 states having "right to work laws during that period. In the 36 states which had no such laws the increase was considerably less, just 29.9 per cent.

No one claims that right-to-work laws were the sole reason for the difference. However the comparison is important because it has been argued that the right-to-work principle would undermine the economic welfare of working people and cause all manner of financial difficulties in the states adopting it.

Actually, the right-to work law is in the direct interest of working people. It says, in effect, that a man can join a union or not join, as he wishes, and that in neither case can that be a condition of employment. In other words, he is a free agent. The union must sell itself to him on its merits—not through coercion and the knowledge that he won't be able to get or hold a job if he doesn't join. That cannot help but make for better and more effective unions.

Finally, the right-to-work is as precious a right as any people can possess—and it should legally be considered so. Without it there can be no real freedom. It is the firm, unyielding shield that stands between the individual and dictatorship from the employer on the one hand and the labor organization on the other.

The real democratic idea is, not that every man shall be on a level with every other man, but that every one shall have liberty, without hindrance, to be what God made him and that he shall have right to reward for what he accomplishes through his own ability and honest enterprise.

A Loud Yip For a Hotdog

NEW YORK (AP)—In a troubled time in which Nasser holds the Suez Canal and the New York Giants are in last place, let us pause and honor one symbol that stands unchanged.

It is the hotdog, the hungry man's best friend.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce named July as National Hotdog Month, and we admit it is a doggone shame to let August dust without paying homage to America's favorite delicacy.

The hotdog is, narrowly speaking, no more an American invention than the motor car or ice cream. But, like them, it has become recognized now everywhere, except possibly in Russia, as peculiarly typical of our culture.

The ancestor of the hotdog is the sausage, and the sausage is older than recorded history.

It was undoubtedly broiled by the Greek troops besieging ancient Troy, because blind Homer in the 9th Century B.C. wrote:

"As when a man hears a great glowing fire turns to and fro a sausage, full of fat and blood, anxious to have it quickly roasted, so to and fro dyse tossed, and pondered how to lay hands upon the shameless suitors."

There are almost as many kinds of sausages as there are nationalities. But the modern hotdog, according to culinary scholars, springs from the frankfurter, developed by a forgotten genius in the 16th Century in Frankfurt, Germany.

It is also generally accepted that the frankfurter first won popularity in America at Coney Island, where it was introduced by Charles Feltman, a German immigrant, in 1871.

He put out an all-beef product. Other Coney Island hawkers, quick to try to cash in on his success, began peddling adulterated franks that seemed to have in them everything from chicken feathers to ground up mattress stuffing. Reform elements set up a cry.

Quick to seize on this new political issue, Boss Tweed slapped a $200 license fee on the vendors, and Police Captain Elias Clayton was given the task of "finding out what breed of dog went into the making of frankfurters."

This slighting reference to the possible canine content of frankfurters tickled Coney Island tourists, who promptly began calling them "hotdogs." The name has stuck ever since.

Some historians contend, however, the hotdog sandwich as we know it today didn't come along until the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis in 1904. A

The Trials of Harold Stassen

All men in public life suffer from frustrations and disappointments. The concatenations of affairs, the course of events, the interplay of imponderables seem to dominate situations to the annoyance of those who have devoted their lives to what they regard as a public service.

Harold Stassen has the reputation of being an able administrator of a public office, which is not an ignominious one as there are not too many men of real managerial ability in public life. Although only 49 years of age, he has been governor of the state of Minnesota, president of the University of Pennsylvania, a permanent candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency of the United States, and during the Eisenhower administration he has been in charge of the give-away program. He is now the President's Secretary of Peace, in charge of disarmament.

There can be no question but that Stassen's career has been notable. But he is possessed of one character defect that places him in an awkward position vis-a-vis other Republicans. That is his obsession that he ought to be president of the United States.

Certainly, there can be no objection to any man aspiring to the presidency. All boys used to be told by doting parents that the greatness of American consisted in the right of any man to become president, no matter what a dope he might grow up to be. That was said to give the child self-confidence and to instill in him patriotic ideals. Many a mother who found herself big with child while abroad rushed back to the United States to give birth to her son on American soil, only to discover that she gave birth to a girl or that, if a son, he grew up to be a football player with no presidential ambitions at all. Life is full of surprises.

Harold Stassen, however, was different. Never for a moment did he lose the ambition to be president or the conviction that he was just the guy for the job. He always had an attraction for youth, probably because he has always been so young-looking, so boyish, in appearance. When Stassen, in 1940, realized that he could not get the nomination for himself, he turned to his youthful strength over to Willie and gained some stature by his sacrifice, because the Eastern business men who were then in control of the Republican Party, looked favorably upon Stassen.

However, Tom Dewey and Bob Taft arose to plague Stassen and to reduce his opportunities and when they had exhausted each other, Dwight D. Eisenhower appeared on the scene and took over. Stassen became an Eisenhower man was duly rewarded by being given Paul Hoffman's job as almoner of the United States, giving away its largesse to all nations with a free and generous hand that was so free and so generous that Congress voted him out of office.

Eisenhower then took Stassen into the White House where he was made an assistant to the President, a Secretary of Peace, in charge of universal disarmament. As such negotiations are the especial province of the State Department, Stassen came into conflict not only with John Foster Dulles but with all other persons in the White House who were dealing with foreign policy. Those who complained to President Eisenhower that Stassen treads heavily upon the toes of all others were told that Harold was a great liberal and that the Republicans needed a great liberal.

When the President became ill, some Republicans aspired to be vice president to replace Richard Nixon. Among these was Harold Stassen. There were so many aspirants and they all gave the impression of waltzing on Ike's grave even before he died that it was inevitable that the President would solve the problem by keeping the 1952 Ike and Dick ticket.

So Stassen organized his Young Republican contingent in 16 states to put pressure on Eisenhower. He was duly warned that his activities were not pleasing to the President, whereupon he suggested the name of Christian Herter, knowing, as everybody in political life must know, that Herter cannot and, for his health, should not take the job. It was a smart way to start an argument in the hope that Stassen would get it as a compromise, but it was too smart and too palpable and too desperate.

Mrs. Homer Scott Is Hostess to Class Members

Mrs. Homer Scott entertained twelve members of the Willing to Help Class of the McNair Presbyterian Church for its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

The home was decorated with lovely bouquets of summer flowers.

Mrs. Ruby Larkin conducted an interesting devotional period, using Scripture from James and closing with a poem "Through All Eternity."

Mrs. Naomi Reif, the president, was in charge of the business meeting. Reports of all the committees were given and the roll call was answered with Scripture verses. Several projects were discussed and planned for the coming fall.

The theme of the August meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Reif, will be "Experience Dollar."

The meeting was closed with the benediction.

During the social hour, visiting was enjoyed. Mrs. Ted Long and Mrs. Howard Dellinger received favors in a clever contest.

Mrs. Scott was assisted by Mrs. Long in serving tempting refreshments.

Tuesday Club Meeting Is Held

Mrs. Forest Tipton was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Tuesday Kensington Club.

Early in the afternoon Mrs. Tipton served a dessert course from one long table and two smaller tables. She was assisted in the

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hays and grandson, Davis Hays, have returned from a 10-day vacation in the East. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hover in Montclair, N. J.

Cpl. Harold Cummings is spending a 10-day leave with his mother, Mrs. Leo Cummings, prior to reporting to his new assignment at Lordstown Military Reservation at Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Smith and daughter, Charlene, and Mr. Elmer Smith arrived home Monday evening after a vacation spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Smith and children in Smethport, Penn.

serving by Mrs. J. E. Magly and Mrs. Walter P. Iton.

Her home was decorated with lovely bouquets of flowers from her garden.

The group enjoyed sewing and visiting the remainder of the afternoon.

Two guests present were Mrs. O. J. Farmer of Falls Church, Va., and Mrs. Magly of Washington C. H.

Church Society Meets With Mrs. Stephenson

The Leadership Training Class of the First Presbyterian Church combined its business meeting with a farewell party at the home of Mrs. Leonard Stephenson on Tuesday evening with 25 members, one guest and the class teacher, Mrs. P. M. Cook present.

The farewell was for Mrs. James Mason, who is moving to Lancaster.

The short business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Don Woods and the devotions were in charge of Mrs. Eugene Ladrach.

The secretary's report was read by Mrs. Ladrach and Mrs. John Lawson read the treasurer's report which were approved.

Mrs. Ronald Cornwell and Mrs. James Wilson reported on the visits to rest homes. The next visits will be in October.

After the meeting was closed, refreshments were served by hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jean Grundies, Miss Marie Marchant and Mrs. Charles Sheppard.

A guest present at the meeting was Mrs. Loren Noble.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Coil.

Proof of His Love Not Convincing

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — To prove his love for a Colorado College coed, Michael F. Cusack of Fort Worth, Tex., ran his fist through the glass door of his college dormitory.

Police said the unidentified coed, who witnessed the incident, wasn't convinced. Neither was the college's dean of men. He handed Cusack a bill for the damage. And the young student was taken to a local hospital suffering severe hand and wrist cuts.

Crowded Conditions Relieved

Grace Church Expands Into Parish House Now

At long last, Grace Methodist Church is not only getting relief from the crowded conditions that have handicapped its Sunday School classes, but also some room to expand its over-all youth program.

Now that the Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Poe have moved into the new parsonage at 309 N. Fayette St., some of the Sunday School classes and other youth groups are being moved into the parish house adjoining the church.

The church membership, especially among the young people, has been increasing to such an extent that it has outgrown the available space in the church.

The first to move into the parish house was the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the church. It is to have a headquarters all its own in a big basement room, which can be fixed up for the particular needs of Scouts.

Up to now, the Scouts have had to share their room with the Junior Department of the church. Two third grade classes of the city schools also used the same room.

THE KINDERGARTEN Department was the next to move. Rooms on the first floor have been assigned to the three and four year old youngsters.

The move was made under the supervision of Mrs. Samuel Wilson, superintendent of the Kindergarten, Mrs. Eddie McCoy, Mrs. Dewey Sheidler, Mrs. James McCoy and Mrs. Ethel Caldwell. Stevie McCoy, Linda Carol Sue and Judy McCoy and Vickie and Julie Wilson helped take many of the books, pictures and toys used in the Kindergarten from the church to the new headquarters in the parish house.

With the Kindergarten Department moved to the Parish House, there will be more room available for the Junior and Primary Departments. Other moves and adjustments being contemplated to provide additional space that can be used to the best advantage as the needs arise.

On Saturday, a group of the Junior Department boys and girls helped Mrs. Frank Dill and Mrs. Bob Lytton move their department, which had been upstairs in the church, to the space formerly occupied by the Kindergarten Department. Carolyn, Donna and Marilyn Dill, Jack Lytton and David Brickles helped make this move.

The Primary Department, keeping the rooms it now has, is "spilling over" into the Junior Department rooms.

Later on Mrs. Arch Riber's "True Blue" class will move over to one of the upstairs room in the Parish House.

TV Producer Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Isidore Linenbaum, TV film producer, died yesterday following a heart attack. He was at work in his office when stricken.

Seitz Family Reunion At Circleville Sunday

The annual Seitz family reunion is to be held this year at Ted Lewis Park in Circleville next Sunday.

Most of the family are descendants of four brothers, William, John Wesley, Jacob R. and Elisha Seitz. And most of those of John Wesley Seitz live in Fayette and Ross counties, those of William Seitz in the Columbus area, Elisha Seitz in Vinton County and Jacob R. Seitz in Ross, Vinton, Highland and Pickaway counties.

S. A. Ringer of Leesburg is president of the family organization and Gladys E. Seitz of South Bloomingville is the secretary.

Vacation Bible School Set for Madison Mills

Anybody is welcome to attend the Vacation Bible School to be held at the Madison Mills Methodist Church, August 6 through the 10, from 1:30 until 4 p. m. each afternoon.

The closing program will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at the church.

Mrs. Damon Merritt will be in charge of the week's activities.

Homecoming At Sedalia Is Next Friday

Elaborate plans for the annual fish fry and homecoming at Sedalia Friday today were complete, except for the usual last-minute details.

Sponsored by the Methodist Church, the affair is to be held on the school grounds in the village.

The event is to start with a roast beef dinner at noon. This is to be followed by an afternoon of visiting, a time at which the homecomers can renew old friendships and make new ones.

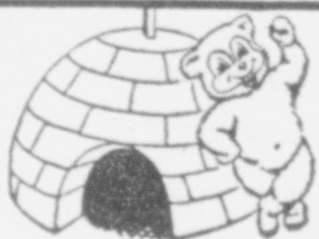

Fish sandwiches, ice cream and soft drinks concession stands are to be open all through the day and into the evening.

Things are to move into high gear in the afternoon when, at 5:30 o'clock a parade is to form at the northern edge of the village and go south over the main street in front of the school at 6 o'clock.

In the parade will be floats, the new fire fighting equipment, old and new automobiles, horses, bicycles and pets. It is to be led by the Madison County Band, which also will play during the supper period. Prizes are to be awarded and the parade is open to everyone.

In the evening, starting at 8:30 o'clock, there is to be an entertainment program in the school auditorium, featuring pupils from the Jack Sherick School of Dancing in Washington C. H. under the direction of Miss Florence Blake. Jack Lee, Columbus comedian, is to be the master of ceremonies and Miss Irma Clickner is to be the accompanist.

Summerville, Missouri

Recently, at the request of customers we have wired flowers to Oslo, Norway, Paris, France and the Isle of Man, off the coast of England. These orders presented but little complication.

Last month however a customer posed a more difficult problem when she requested flowers sent to Summerville, Missouri. The nearest florist was found to be located in Willow Springs, Missouri, 36 miles distant from Summerville.

Nevertheless the flowers were delivered the next day—A 72 mile trip over rough roads for the florist — and the customer reported that she was well pleased with them.

We can do the same for you at any time.

A guest present at the meeting was Mrs. Loren Noble.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Coil.

Proof of His Love Not Convincing

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — To prove his love for a Colorado College coed, Michael F. Cusack of Fort Worth, Tex., ran his fist through the glass door of his college dormitory. Police said the unidentified coed, who witnessed the incident, wasn't convinced. Neither was the college's dean of men. He handed Cusack a bill for the damage. And the young student was taken to a local hospital suffering severe hand and wrist cuts.

Crowded Conditions Relieved

Grace Church Expands Into Parish House Now

At long last, Grace Methodist Church is not only getting relief from the crowded conditions that have handicapped its Sunday School classes, but also some room to expand its over-all youth program.

Now that the Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Poe have moved into the new parsonage at 309 N. Fayette St., some of the Sunday School classes and other youth groups are being moved into the parish house adjoining the church.

The church membership, especially among the young people, has been increasing to such an extent that it has outgrown the available space in the church.

The first to move into the parish house was the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the church. It is to have a headquarters all its own in a big basement room, which can be fixed up for the particular needs of Scouts.

Up to now, the Scouts have had to share their room with the Junior Department of the church. Two third grade classes of the city schools also used the same room.

THE KINDERGARTEN Department was the next to move. Rooms on the first floor have been assigned to the three and four year old youngsters.

The move was made under the supervision of Mrs. Samuel Wilson, superintendent of the Kindergarten, Mrs. Eddie McCoy, Mrs. Dewey Sheidler, Mrs. James McCoy and Mrs. Ethel Caldwell. Stevie McCoy, Linda Carol Sue and Judy McCoy and Vickie and Julie Wilson helped take many of the books, pictures and toys used in the Kindergarten from the church to the new headquarters in the parish house.

With the Kindergarten Department moved to the Parish House, there will be more room available for the Junior and Primary Departments. Other moves and adjustments being contemplated to provide additional space that can be used to the best advantage as the needs arise.

On Saturday, a group of the Junior Department boys and girls helped Mrs. Frank Dill and Mrs. Bob Lytton move their department, which had been upstairs in the church, to the space formerly occupied by the Kindergarten Department. Carolyn, Donna and Marilyn Dill, Jack Lytton and David Brinkles helped make this move.

The Primary Department, keeping the rooms it now has, is "spilling over" into the Junior Department rooms.

Later on Mrs. Arch Riber's "True Blue" class will move over to one of the upstairs rooms in the Parish House.

Summerville, Missouri

Recently, at the request of customers we have wired flowers to Oslo, Norway, Paris, France and the Isle of Man, off the coast of England. These orders presented but little, complication.

Last month however a customer posed a more difficult problem when she requested flowers sent to Summerville, Missouri. The nearest florist was found to be located in Willow Springs, Missouri, 36 miles distant from Summerville.

Nevertheless the flowers were delivered the next day—A 72 mile trip over rough roads for the florist—and the customer reported that she was well pleased with them.

We can do the same for you at any time.

New Prexy of OSU To Face Unusual Problems in Job

Editor's Note: Following is the first in a series of four articles telling what is ahead of Ohio State University's new president and of the university itself.

By LAMAR FALKNER
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Novice G. Fawcett says he likes challenges.

It's a good thing.

When he sits down today in the president's chair at Ohio State University, he will face problems none of his seven predecessors faced.

Ohio State — like universities throughout America — is exercising its best brains to find ways to cope with the ever increasing college-age population.

Conservative estimates indicate the university will more than double its enrollment in the next 17 years. By 1973, it expects 50,000 students. Some 23,000 are expected this fall, just 2,500 short of its GI peak in 1947.

More people are going to college than ever before. And, barring unforeseen catastrophe, the increase will continue indefinitely. Mass education has arrived, and some educators are not sure they can handle it.

The 47-year-old neophyte president, making his first plunge into university administration, has no doubts the problems will be met and good will come of it.

While Fawcett was superintendent of Columbus public schools, enrollments jumped during seven years from 41,000 to 61,000. He headed a 32-million-dollar expansion program. Another 12 millions will be asked for Columbus schools in the November election.

"Throughout the history of the university, from its earliest struggles, the argument of size has appeared in the picture periodically," Fawcett says. "Even when there were only 300 students there was heated discussion as to whether more should be admitted."

The fact that Ohio State, already one of the nation's biggest universities, will grow even bigger is inevitable, Fawcett believes.

So far, however, the Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Kenyon College has set his sights on both the forest and the trees. He sees the problem as one that will require teamwork from all phases of education, including secondary schools.

For example, he favors immediate establishment, perhaps at first on an experimental basis, of community colleges providing two-year technical courses to high school graduates. As he sees it, the classes could be conducted afternoons and evenings in public school buildings.

"In some cases, engineers are doing work that could be handled by people with less extensive training," Fawcett explains. "These colleges could train people for jobs that would leave engineers available for more, technical work."

As to who could operate the program, he says, "I lean toward the public boards of education right now."

He adds that the colleges could be partially self-sustaining with legislative appropriations offering "a little encouragement." The curricula could be adjusted to the needs of the local area; a mining town would offer mining courses.

Fawcett also is considering the part television could play in mass education.

"I have a hunch we may be involved in an experiment of this nature," he says.

He believes the drop-out rate of college freshmen and sophomores might be slowed down by a "toughened" program in English and languages for his school students. Such a program is being tried in Columbus public schools right now.

Then, there is the possibility of more branches of colleges and universities, he adds. Several Ohio colleges have opened off-campus branches to make educational opportunities available to more people.

"I don't believe in providing education but opportunity for education," Fawcett says. "They'll take advantage of it."

Some educators have suggested that the booming college enrollments may call for drastic revision of admission requirements, perhaps even steering dull students away from college.

This idea does not appeal to Fawcett. "I don't ever want to pattern our program after Nazi Germany," he declares. "It's the individual right of each person in our society to decide whether he will try college—and I hope it'll always be that way."

Alumni Secretary John B. Fullen believes that Fawcett's "chief hurdle may be some of the faculty who have their fingers crossed because of the introduction of a secondary school man over them." Fullen points out that Fawcett's "busy life has not enabled him to complete all the requirements for the Ph.D. Degree," although he has a Master's Degree in education from Ohio State.

But Fullen adds:

"With all of education in agony because of its acute growing pains one of higher education's greatest current problems is a much closer relationship with the secondary schools which are pouring candidates upon it in unprecedented numbers."

He describes Fawcett as "extremely diplomatic, but he has a mind of his own."

"Nobody ever has to wonder where he stands on an issue Fullen says. 'He lays it right on the line.'"

(Tomorrow: Why are more people going to college than ever before? How far will Ohio State's 7½-million-dollar building program go toward meeting the new demands?)

11 Sea Scouts Get Thank-You

EL TORO, Calif. (AP) — Eleven Sea Scouts from Anaheim have received an official thank you for saving the life of a Marine pilot downed off Catalina last Tuesday.

The boys, at sea on an eight-day cruise, joined the huge search for the missing plane and found the pilot, M.Sgt. George V. Mikelsen Wednesday after he had floated in the water all night. Another man aboard the plane was lost.

Maj. Gen. Marion L. Dawson, commander of the 3rd Marine Aircraft Wing, brought the 11 youngsters and Mayor Charles Pearson of Anaheim to the Marine Air Base here Tuesday and treated them to fried chicken, an inspection tour and a regimental parade.

Birthday Cake Too Late for Little Boy

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Four-year-old Chris Barnes' birthday cake came too late.

The brown-haired, blue-eyed boy with "a smile like the littlest angel" died just after midnight of cancer of the blood.

His mother was more or less reconciled to it. A few hours before, while Chris was receiving his eighth blood transfusion, she quietly observed:

"He's a very sweet, very affectionate little boy. I feel he belongs to God and I feel privileged to have had him even for such a short time."

Mrs. Doris Barnes learned only 30 days ago he had the disease. Chris was in an Albuquerque hospital about two weeks. The nurses took to his bright smile and likened him to "the littlest angel."

Mrs. Barnes, a schoolteacher with three other children, said doctors told her they had seen few such cases develop so rapidly.

Chris would have been five Friday, but his mother decided to hurry up a little birthday party—just in case. It was to have been today.

Aging Jackie Robinson Wins For Brooklyn

Old Guy Leaves Bench To Homer, Single Victory over Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jackie Robinson's an old guy who can still get the job done. He came off the bench to give Brooklyn's third-place world champions the zip they needed to stay healthy after losing seven straight to National League-leading Milwaukee. He delivered the missing snap and crackle to pop the Braves 3-2 Tuesday night with a two-run homer and a tie-breaking, ninth-inning single.

Joe Adcock hit his usual home run against the Dodgers but he pulled a rock as a baserunner, killing off a ninth-inning rally.

While the Dodgers were struggling back to within four games of the Braves, Cincinnati's second-place Redlegs split a two-night double-header with the New York Giants, losing 5-1 and then winning 7-3.

The fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals handed Pittsburgh a sixth straight loss 7-0 on Murry Dickson's five-hitter. The Chicago Cubs came from behind to beat Philadelphia 9-4 with Monte Irvin driving home five runs.

Cleveland's runner-up Indians showed they were still breathing in the American League "race," closing to within nine games of New York as Early Wynn's three-hitter ended the Yankees' winning streak at six games 5-0.

Detroit smacked Boston 6-4 behind Frank Lary's four-hitter. Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-1. Washington beat the Chicago White Sox 4-3 on a wild pitch.

Robinson, 35 and in his 10th season, had been out of the Dodger lineup for 16 games because of a pulled groin muscle. He got three hits in four trips and appears certain to play third again tonight.

Adcock smacked his 24th home run in the second inning off Carl Erskine, but Jackie did him one better with a two-run poke, his eighth, in the bottom half of the frame against Gene Conley. That's the way it stood until the ninth, when with one out, Ed Mathews hit his 20th homer to tie it.

Hank Aaron followed with a double and Erskine gave way to Clem Labine. Adcock was walked intentionally, but Bobby Thomson got a scratch single that loaded the bases. Logan then grounded to Robinson, who threw to the plate to force Aaron as Adcock thundered home, believing catcher Rube Walker was going to try for a double play on Logan at first. Walker held up on the throw and tagged Joe instead.

Pee Wee Reese opened the Dodger ninth with a single off reliever Dave Jolly and moved to second on a sacrifice. After a walk, Robbie's single brought Pee Wee home.

Legion Baseball Field Narrowing

COLUMBUS (AP)—The American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament was down to 11 teams, and four more were due to be ousted from the double-elimination contest today.

Loser's bracket games match Defiance against Newark, Springfield against Grove City, Elyria against Steubenville and Portsmouth against Euclid.

Barborton and Conneaut were eliminated yesterday. Zanesville and Lancaster, both undefeated, in an afternoon contest on the Ohio State University diamond. Cincinnati, the third unbeaten team, drew a bye in today's third round.

Elks Dump Chows in Little Minor League

The Elks stamped the Purina Chows again Tuesday night at Wilson Field, using 24 players in a 24-3 victory.

And all this happened after the Chows had started out in the lead. The Purina squad picked up three runs in the first inning and found out what it was like to be in the lead before the Elks' baseball machine started grinding out runs in the bottom of the same frame.

The Elks scored runs in each of the four innings of the game. The Chows scored only in the first.

No fewer than nine errors were counted up against the Chows. The team succeeded in picking up only one hit.

Wynn Pitches Three-Hitter Against Yanks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Early Wynn pitched a three-hit 5-0 shutout over the New York Yankees last night, the first time the Cleveland Indians have been able to beat the Bombers since Wynn shut them out last June 8.

In between, the Yanks took eight straight from the Indians, and Wynn's effort was probably too little, too late.

When the Yanks came to town this time, Manager Al Lopez was quoted as saying the Indians would be in "good shape" if they took three of this four game series. That would put them seven games behind the league leaders if the Indians win tonight and Thursday.

Wynn allowed only three singles, one of them a bunt by Mickey Mantle.

Only two runners reached second and one reached third. He retired the last 11 batters. The big blow for Cleveland off Johnny Kucks was a homer by Rocky Colavito and a two run triple by Hal Naragon in the second. He scored on a sacrifice fly. Colavito's homer preceded singles by Naragon, Chico Carrasquel and Wynn that accounted for Cleveland's final run and drove Kucks to the showers. Don Larsen retired the last four Indians.

Lopez plans to pitch Bob Lemon tonight. He was knocked out in the second inning of the series opener Monday, after being rattled by two errors by Al Rosen. The Indians lost that one 13-6.

Carter Favored Over Satterfield

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Harold Carter was an 8-5 favorite to whip Bob Satterfield in their televised heavyweight bout tonight.

The edge goes to the 22-year-old Linden, N. J., puncher on the basis of his March 21 decision over unpredictable Bob. The two fighters battled to a draw in Miami Feb. 28.

Satterfield, who has been either KO victim or victor, is ranked sixth in the heavyweight class; Carter is ninth.

No-Hitter Hurdled For Bloomingburg

Carl Snyder pitched himself a no-hitter Tuesday night as his Bloomingburg team romped to a 13-1 victory over the Babe Ruth League-leading Good Hope in a game at Bloomingburg.

Snyder held the Good Hope team hitless for five innings and gave up only two walks. He struck out 12 batters and saw to it that Good Hope's only run was not scored against him.

In addition, Snyder displayed his offense talents by picking up a double and a triple and three big runs.

Six Good Hope errors helped pile up the victory margin for Bloomingburg, but the home team could have done without them—they took every advantage of their eight hits to cop the triumph.

This was as badly as league-leading Good Hope had ever been beaten.

Redlegs Split Double Bill With Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—A split of a doubleheader with the New York Giants last night moved the Cincinnati Redlegs to within two games of leading Milwaukee.

But that same split, coupled with Brooklyn's defeat of Milwaukee cut Cincinnati's margin over the third place Dodgers to two games. And it still left the Reds carrying a load of five more defeats than have been suffered by Milwaukee.

In last night's two-night doubleheader here, rookie Joe Margoneri of the Giants throttled the Rhinelanders in the opener, 5-1, but Redleg bats boomed in the nightcap for a 7-3 victory.

Art Fowler was the loser in the opener and Hal Jeffcoat the winner in the second game although Hershel Freeman had to bail him out of trouble in the eighth inning. It was Freeman's third relief job in as many days.

Ted Kluszewski sat out both games because of a groin injury and Manager Birdie Tebbetts indicated the big first baseman might miss the rest of the series.

Stan Pals' pinch hit home run accounted for the only Redleg run in the opener. In the finale, home runs by Roy McMillan and Ray Jablonski scuttled the Giants.

Johnny Klipsstein was to try for his 10th victory of the season to night with Ruben Gomez as his pitching opponent.

'Full Ride' Scholarship Story Denied

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten officials today termed a national magazine's assertions of "full ride" football scholarships in the conference as exaggerated.

The story in Look came just before a Big Ten meeting scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

Look stated all Big Ten schools except Illinois gave "full ride" scholarships to one or more football players last fall and that some athletes, like Ron Kramer of Michigan, received aid through an "escape" clause in the Big Ten code.

Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, said, "Look's headline bark, which says, 'Football Scandal Hits the Big Ten,' is worse than its reportorial bite."

Look's story said in addition to Kramer, other Michigan players received financial help though they did not make qualifying grades in university courses. Kramer, the magazine said, received $560 grant from the school.

Michigan's Dean of Men Walter B. Rea said assistance to Kramer was based on "need," which Look called a "loophole" in the Big Ten code.

Dick Larkins, Ohio State University athletic director, said today no player received a "full ride" scholarship last year. He said:

"At Ohio State the maximum scholarship was for $600 to some athletes who maintained a B-minus average as required by Western Conference regulations.

"A year's expense for a student at OSU runs to $1,200, so a $600 scholarship could hardly be called a full ride."

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Cowboys Corral Korn Kernels, at Wilson

The Med-O-Pure Cowboys rode herd on the Korn Kernels Tuesday evening at Wilson Field and left them corralled and branded, 7-3.

The Cowboys won despite the eight errors in the six-inning fracas. The Kernels couldn't turn the errors into runs, so they didn't make any difference.

Scoring for the Cowboys was done in the first, the third, the fifth and the sixth. After picking up runs in the first and the second, the Kernels did not score again.

Charles Wright hit two big homers for the Cowboys, bringing his total to seven for this year. Mike Chakeres clobbered out another homer for his team.

Sammy Evans, on the hill for the Cowboys, pitched a clean game, giving up only four hits. Three of them were made by Jerry Powell, the Kernels' classy third baseman.

Nicklaus Collects Another Crown

FINDLAY (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, who captured the Ohio Open Golf Championship Sunday, today holds another crown—the state Junior Chamber of Commerce Golf Championship.

Nicklaus shot a two-under-par 142 yesterday in the 36-hole tournament to lead Ohio qualifiers for the National Jaycee Tournament at Fargo, N. D., Aug. 18-25.

Three other qualifiers tied at 148. They are Bruce Kloppman, Cleveland; Don Stickney, Columbus; and Robert Black, Massillon.

Qualifying Play In Tam Continues

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 159 pros will complete qualifying play today for the All American Golf Tournament at Tam O'Shanter. The group is a remainder of 283 pros who began the qualifying round yesterday despite interruptions because of rain.

Gene Webb of St. Louis, a 35-year-old who apparently thrives in rain, fired a five-under-par 33-34-67 to lead the field with 5 birdies and 13 pars.

Following Webb were Gene Bone of Detroit and Herman Scharlau of Chicago with 69s.

Eddie Machen, Redding, Calif., heavyweight who has knocked out Nino Valdes, scored knockouts in his first 10 professional battles. His bout with Valdes was his 15th.

Moore Labeled 'Fighter of Month'

NEW YORK (AP)—Light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore's easy knockout of James J. Parker strengthened the ancient battler's position as the No. 1 contender for the vacant heavyweight throne and earned him Ring magazine's "fighter of the month" award.

The Ring's monthly ratings, released today, showed only one major change among the heavyweights. Undeclared Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., advanced from 10th to eighth as the result of his knockout of Cuba's Nino Valdes; once the top-ranking heavyweight contender.

Middletown Girl Records Upset

CHICAGO (AP)—Helen Lowry of Middletown, Ohio, upset eighth seeded Gail Delozier, Louisville, Ky., yesterday in the National Girls 15 and under Tennis Tournament.

Linda Ne'n of Middletown defeated Sandy Warshaw, Tampa, Fla., in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2, while a third Middletown girl, Martha Grine, was losing to Sylvia Hardaway, Gainesville, Fla., 6-2, 6-1.

In first round doubles matches, Ne'n and Ann Lawson, Middletown, defeated Nancy Piolet, Hinsdale, Ill., and Mary Donahue, Chicago, 6-3, 6-2.

Demon Always Sets Colt Trot Record

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Demon Always last night set a mile record for the season of 2:04.4 for three-year-old trotting colts over a half-mile track. The record broken was 2:05, set by Valiant Rodney.

The son of Demon Hanover, 1948 Hambletonian winner, set the new mark in winning the $2,700 Cairo Trot at Saratoga Raceway.

2 Teams Dropped In Baseball Test

ST. PARIS (AP)—Two loser's bracket games last night dropped Christiansburg and Mansfield from the Ohio National Baseball Congress Tournament here.

Christiansburg lost to Lima VFW, 10-6 while Mansfield bowed to Lima Steel, 10-2.

The two Lima teams will meet tomorrow night. The evening's second contest will match the St. Paris Lakers and Piqua.

Aging Jackie Robinson Wins For Brooklyn

Old Guy Leaves Bench To Homer, Single Victory over Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jackie Robinson's an old guy who can still get the job done. He came off the bench to give Brooklyn's third-place world champions the zip they needed to stay healthy after losing seven straight to National League-leading Milwaukee. He delivered the missing snap and crackle to pop the Braves 3-2 Tuesday night with a two-run homer and a tie-breaking, ninth-inning single.

Joe Adcock hit his usual home run against the Dodgers but he pulled a rock as a baserunner, killing off a ninth-inning rally. While the Dodgers were struggling back to within four games of the Braves, Cincinnati's second-place Redlegs split a two-night double-header with the New York Giants, losing 5-1 and then winning 7-3.

The fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals handed Pittsburgh a sixth straight loss 7-0 on Murry Dickson's five-hitter. The Chicago Cubs came from behind to beat Philadelphia 9-4 with Monte Irvin driving home five runs.

Cleveland's runner-up Indians showed they were still breathing in the American League "race," closing to within nine games of New York as Early Wynn's three-hitter ended the Yankees' winning streak at six games 5-0.

Detroit smacked Boston 6-4 behind Frank Lary's four-hitter. Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-1. Washington beat the Chicago White Sox 4-3 on a wild pitch.

Robinson, 35 and in his 10th season, had been out of the Dodger lineup for 16 games because of a pulled groin muscle. He got three hits in four trips and appears certain to play third again tonight.

Adcock smacked his 24th home run in the second inning off Carl Erskine, but Jackie did him one better with a two-run poke, his eighth, in the bottom half of the frame against Gene Conley. That's the way it stood until the ninth, when with one out, Ed Mathews hit his 20th homer to tie it.

Hank Aaron followed with a double and Erskine gave way to Clem Labine. Adcock was walked intentionally, but Bobby Thomson got a scratch single that loaded the bases. Logan then grounded to Robinson, who threw to the plate to force Aaron as Adcock thundered home, believing catcher Rube Walker was going to try for a double play on Logan at first. Walker held up on the throw and tagged Joe instead.

Pee Wee Reese opened the Dodger ninth with a single off reliever Dave Jolly and moved to second on a sacrifice. After a walk, Robbie's single brought Pee Wee home.

Legion Baseball Field Narrowing

COLUMBUS (AP)—The American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament was down to 11 teams, and four more were due to be ousted from the double-elimination contest today.

Loser's bracket games match Defiance against Newark, Springfield against Grove City, Elyria against Steubenville and Portsmouth against Euclid.

Barberton and Conneaut were eliminated yesterday.

Zanesville and Lancaster, both undefeated, clash in an afternoon contest on the Ohio State University diamond. Cincinnati, the third unbeaten team, drew a bye in today's third round.

Elks Dump Chows in Little Minor League

The Elks stamped the Purina Chows again Tuesday night at Wilson Field, using 24 players in a 2-3 victory.

And all this happened after the Chows had started out in the lead. The Purina squad picked up three runs in the first inning and found out what it was like to be in the lead before the Elks' baseball machine started grinding out runs in the bottom of the same frame.

The Elks scored runs in each of the four innings of the game. The Chows scored only in the first.

No fewer than nine errors were counted up against the Chows. The team succeeded in picking up only one hit.

Wynn Pitches Three-Hitter Against Yanks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Early Wynn pitched a three-hit 5-0 shutout over the New York Yankees last night, the first time the Cleveland Indians have been able to beat the Bombers since Wynn shut them out last June 8.

In between, the Yanks took eight straight from the Indians, and Wynn's effort was probably too little, too late.

When the Yanks came to town this time, Manager Al Lopez was quoted as saying the Indians would be in "good shape" if they took three of this four game series. That would put them seven games behind the league leaders if the Indians win tonight and Thursday.

Wynn allowed only three singles, one of them a bunt by Mickey Mantle.

Only two runners reached second and one reached third. He retired the last 11 batters.

The big blows for Cleveland off Johnny Kucks were a homer by Rocky Colavito and a two run triple by Hal Naragon in the second. He scored on a sacrifice fly. Colavito's homer preceded singles by Naragon, Chico Carrasquel and Wynn that accounted for Cleveland's final run and drove Kucks to the showers. Don Larsen retired the last four Indians.

Lopez plans to pitch Bob Lemon tonight. He was knocked out in the second inning of the series opener Monday, after being rattled by two errors by Al Rosen. The Indians lost that one 13-6.

Carter Favored Over Satterfield

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Harold Carter was an 8-5 favorite to whip Bob Satterfield in their televised heavyweight bout tonight.

The edge goes to the 22-year-old Linden, N. J., puncher on the basis of his March 21 decision over unpredictable Bob. The two fighters battled to a draw in Miami Feb. 28.

Satterfield, who has been either KO victim or victor, is ranked sixth in the heavyweight class; Carter is ninth.

No-Hitter Hurler For Bloomingburg

Carl Snyder pitched himself a no-hitter Tuesday night as his Bloomingburg team romped to a 13-1 victory over the Babe Ruth League-leading Good Hope in a game at Bloomingburg.

Snyder held the Good Hope team hitless for five innings and gave up only two walks. He struck out 12 batters and saw to it that Good Hope's only run was not scored against him.

In addition, Snyder displayed his offense talents by picking up a double and a triple and three big runs.

Six Good Hope errors helped pile up the victory margin for Bloomingburg, but the home team could have done without them—they took every advantage of their eight hits to cop the triumph.

This was as badly as league-leading Good Hope had ever been beaten.

Redlegs Split Double Bill With Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—A split of a doubleheader with the New York Giants last night moved the Cincinnati Redlegs to within two games of leading Milwaukee.

But that same split, coupled with Brooklyn's defeat of Milwaukee cut Cincinnati's margin over the third place Dodgers to two games. And it still left the Reds carrying a load of five more defeats than have been suffered by Milwaukee.

In last night's two-night doubleheader here, rookie Joe Margoneri of the Giants throttled the Rhinelanders in the opener, 5-1, but Redleg bats boomed in the nightcap for a 7-3 victory.

Art Fowler was the loser in the opener and Hal Jeffcoat the winner in the second game although Hershel Freeman had to bail him out of trouble in the eighth inning. It was Freeman's third relief job in as many days.

Ted Kluszewski sat out both games because of a groin injury and Manager Birdie Tebbetts indicated the big first baseman might miss the rest of the series.

Stan Palys' pinch hit home run accounted for the only Redleg run in the opener. In the finale, home runs by Roy McMillan and Ray Jablonski scuttled the Giants.

Johnny Klipstein was to try for his 10th victory of the season tonight with Ruben Gomez as his pitching opponent.

'Full Ride' Scholarship Story Denied

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten officials today termed a national magazine's assertions of "full ride" football scholarships in the conference as exaggerated.

The story in Look came just before a Big Ten meeting scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

Look stated all Big Ten schools except Illinois gave "full ride" scholarships to one or more football players last fall and that some athletes, like Ron Kramer of Michigan, received aid through an "escape" clause in the Big Ten code.

Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, said, "Football Scandal Hits the Big Ten," is worse than its reportorial bite."

Look's story said in addition to Kramer, other Michigan players received financial help though they did not make qualifying grades in university courses. Kramer, the magazine said, received $560 grant from the school.

Michigan's Dean of Men Walter B. Rea said assistance to Kramer was based on "need," which Look called a "loophole" in the Big Ten code.

Dick Larkins, Ohio State University athletic director, said "full ride" scholarship last year. He said:

"At Ohio State the maximum scholarship was for $600 to some athletes who maintained a B-minus average as required by Western Conference regulations.

"A year's expense for a student at OSU runs to $1,300, so a $600 scholarship could hardly be called a full ride."

Eddie Machen, Redding, Calif., heavyweight who has knocked out Nino Valdes, scored knockouts in his first 10 professional battles. His bout with Valdes was his 15th.

Cowboys Corral Korn Kernels, at Wilson

The Med-O-Pure Cowboys rode herd on the Korn Kernels Tuesday evening at Wilson Field and left them corralled and branded, 7-3.

The Cowboys won despite the eight errors in the six-inning fracas. The Kernels couldn't turn the errors into runs, so they didn't make any difference.

Scoring for the Cowboys was done in the first, the third, the fifth and the sixth. After picking up runs in the first and the second, the Kernels did not score again.

Charles Wright hit two big homers for the Cowboys, bringing his total to seven for this year. Mike Chakeres clobbered out another homer for his team.

Sammy Evans, on the hill for the Cowboys, pitched a clean game, giving up only four hits. Three of them were made by Jerry Powell, the Kernels' classy third baseman.

Nicklaus Collects Another Crown

FINDLAY (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, who captured the Ohio Open Golf Championship Sunday, today holds another crown—the state Junior Chamber of Commerce Golf Championship.

Nicklaus shot a two-under-par 142 yesterday in the 36-hole tournament to lead Ohio qualifiers for the National Jaycee Tournament at Fargo, N. D., Aug. 18-25.

Three other qualifiers tied at 148. They are Bruce Kloppman, Cleveland; Don Stickney, Columbus, and Robert Black, Massillon.

Qualifying Play In Tam Continues

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 159 pros will complete qualifying play today for the All American Golf Tournament at Tam O'Shanter. The group is a remainder of 283 pros who began the qualifying round yesterday despite interruptions because of rain.

Gene Webb of St. Louis, a 35-year-old who apparently thrives in rain, fired a five-under-par 33-34-67 to lead the field with 5 birdies and 13 pars.

Following Webb were Gene Bone of Detroit and Herman Scharlau of Chicago with 69s.

Eddie Machen, Redding, Calif., heavyweight who has knocked out Nino Valdes, scored knockouts in his first 10 professional battles. His bout with Valdes was his 15th.

Moore Labeled 'Fighter of Month'

NEW YORK (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore's easy knockout of James J. Parker strengthened the ancient battler's position as the No. 1 contender for the vacant heavyweight throne and earned him Ring magazine's "fighter of the month" award.

The Ring's monthly ratings, released today, showed only one major change among the heavyweights. Undefeated Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., advanced from 10th to eighth as the result of his knockout of Cuba's Nino Valdes; once the top-ranking heavyweight contender.

Middletown Girl Records Upset

CHICAGO (AP)—Helen Lowry of Middletown, Ohio, upset sixth seeded Gail Delozier, Louisville, Ky., yesterday in the National Girls 15 and under Tennis Tournament.

Linda Ne'n of Middletown defeated Sandy Warshaw, Tampa, Fla., in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2, while a third Middletown girl, Martha Grine, was losing to Sylvia Hardaway, Gainesville, Fla., 6-2, 6-1.

In first round doubles matches, Ne'n and Ann Lawson, Middletown, defeated Nancy Pickett, Hinsdale, Ill., and Mary Donahue, Chicago, 6-3, 6-2.

LINDA MORGAN, 14, so-called "miracle girl" of the Andrea Doria disaster, is comforted by her father, news commentator Ed Morgan, at St. Vincent's Hospital, New York, where she underwent successful surgery for injuries received. First to be listed among the dead after the Doria sank, Linda, it developed, had been hurled by the impact to the bow of the Stockholm where she was later found in the wreckage. Her stepfather, newspaper correspondent Camillo Cinierra, and her stepmother, Jean, met death in the disaster. (International)

'I'm Not Guilty' Lee Tells Mayor

Accused Held for Grand Jury Probe

WILMINGTON (Spec.) — firmly proclaiming his innocence, Orville Lee, 39, was in jail today awaiting grand jury investigation of the murder of his sweetheart, Miss Anna Hester Cowin, 29, Wilmington, in the Union Bus Depot here last Saturday morning.

"I'm not guilty," Lee told Mayor Corwin C. Nichols at his preliminary arraignment on the first degree murder charge last Monday.

But the affidavit, signed by Police Chief Don Simmons, asserts that Lee "unlawfully, purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice, killed Anna H. Cowin," on July 28. He was held without bond.

Lee told the Mayor at the arraignment that he had been "on the up and up" since his release from the Cincinnati workhouse last fall—or rather that he had "just been drinking."

THE MAYOR reminded Lee of some correspondence the two had while Lee was serving his workhouse term in which Lee said he would go straight when he got out. "I have been," said Lee, adding that he had "just been drinking."

Mayor Nichols carefully read to Lee the affidavit filed against him by Chief Simmons. He charged him with killing the girl with whom he had frequently been seen cleaning the bus station.

He also read the penalty for first degree murder — death in the electric chair, unless mercy is recommended, in which case it is life imprisonment.

Prosecutor George L. Schilling, Sr., said he did not plan to have the Clinton County grand jury meet to consider the case until he has assembled all the evidence.

Boy Here Is Injured In Fall under Wagon

A 12-year-old North Side boy narrowly escaped serious injury at 6 p. m. Tuesday when he fell beneath a loaded haywagon on the John Loudner farm, Mark Rd.

Treated in Memorial Hospital for bruises on the entire left side of his body was Wesley Wilson, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Wilson, 427 Gibbs Ave.

The boy was riding on the front end of the haywagon which was being pulled in by a tractor operated by Macky McDonald, Leesburg Rd. He slipped from his perch and fell beneath a wheel on the left side of the heavy wagon which rolled over him, leaving tire marks from leg to shoulder.

The sheriff's office investigated the accident.

Mrs. Anna Caridas Funeral Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna G. Caridas, 42, who died in University Hospital in Columbus Sunday night, are to be held in the Grimes and Davidson Funeral Home, 2741 Cleveland Ave., at 1 p. m. Thursday.

Mrs. Caridas was a native of Washington C. H., the daughter of the late Police Chief and Mrs. Jack Wolfe. However, she has lived in Springfield and Columbus for about 20 years.

She is survived by her husband, Donald Caridas of Columbus; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Johnson of South Charleston; two grandchildren and a sister, Miss Jeanette Wolfe of Washington C. H. Her step-mother, Mrs. Ruth Wolfe, lives at 1037 Broadway here.

Burial is to be in Union Cemetery in Columbus.

PARTITION SUIT FILED

A civil suit in partition has been filed by Ralph Theobald and George H. Theobald in Common Pleas Court, asking appraisal and sale of 10 parcels of real estate in Fayette County, principally in Green Township and Washington C. H., which are a part of the estate of the late Frank S. Theobald.

Defendants in the action are Lena H. Theobald and 20 others, seven of them minors.

The plaintiffs affirm that each is entitled to undivided two-twenty-first parts of the 10 parcels and ask proceeds of sale be distributed among the heirs.

SUIT ASKS ALIMONY

Marjorie Kelley, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, has filed suit against Charles F. Kelley, Columbus, in Common Pleas Court, asking judgment for reasonable alimony and support for two minor children. She also asks that the defendant convey to her his interest in real estate in Madison Township.

DIVORCE ACTION FILED

Following dismissal of a divorce action brought against her, Nancy C. Evans has filed a similar suit against William R. Evans in Common Pleas Court. Mrs. Evans, who charges gross neglect and extreme cruelty, also asks alimony. The parties, who were married Feb. 14, 1956, in Richmond, Ind., have no children.

Lancaster Medic Sees 'Conflicts' In State Autopsy

LANCASTER (P)—Dr. Joseph A. Geer, Fairfield County coroner, says he is trying to resolve "conflicts" in the autopsy reports on the body of his wife, Constance, 31.

Dr. Geer said yesterday the "reports of the toxicologists and pathologists do not entirely agree." He did not specify what the conflict was or what the autopsy reports contained.

Dr. Geer requested the autopsy from the Ohio State University Pathology Department after his wife's death, June 28.

Mrs. Geer was found unconscious on the floor of her home by Dr. Geer. She died in a hospital two hours later.

Prosecutor Morehart said today that the report on the autopsy should be released by Dr. Geer, and that he wanted to give him a reasonable time to study it. The prosecutor said no deadline time has been set.

Dr. Geer has said in mid-July that he received a toxicologists' report on an autopsy but that the amount of sedative and cocaine in the body "wasn't sufficient to cause the death of any person."

Traffic Violators Forfeit Bonds

Three traffic violators forfeited bond by non-appearance in Municipal Court Wednesday.

They were: Edwin L. Robinett, 20, of 431 Rose Ave., charged with making excessive noise; forfeited $20.

Frederick B. Stimus, 46, Sewane, Tenn., charged by police with reckless operation on Columbus Ave., $30.

Orville Mullins, 39, Dayton, arrested by the Highway Patrol for traveling 70 miles an hour in Union Township, $20.

Federal Allocation Of Vaccine Ended

WASHINGTON (P)—The government today ended federal allocation of Salk polio vaccine to the states and territories.

Secretary of Welfare Folsom said this was done "so that more vaccine will be available to areas where demand is greatest."

Folsom added that the move was taken upon recommendation of Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, who wound up his work as surgeon general of the Public Health Service yesterday.

Boy Hangs Self

COLUMBIANA (P)—John Browning, 6, accidentally hung himself with a plastic rope while playing in a swing in his backyard. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Browning.

Dear Sir:

School problems continue to be uppermost in the minds of most Fayette County folks, interrupted only by the press of getting that wheat or oats crop harvested or preparing for Fayette-County Fair exhibits and activities, just concluded.

We cannot help but contrast the cooperative spirit generated by county fair activities as against the group segregation ideas being so successfully fostered by our school leaders to gain political, not educational, advantage.

It seems nothing could be more apparent to thinking people than the fact that something must be wrong when we are told we need two large high schools in Fayette County just three (3) miles apart. Fayette County taxpayers are to be asked for the staggering sum of $2,297,500.00 and no mention has been made of the additional tax levies which must follow to cover the operation of these new plants.

You will recall this whole school problem came to a head when, as the climax to many years of a running fight between the county superintendent and city schools, some two hundred and thirty students found themselves uprooted from their normal high school attendance.

For this lack of cooperation we are now asked to shoulder a 2.3 million dollar indebtedness when possibly one joint high school, at a saving of ONE MILLION dollars would solve the rural high school problem and the city elementary problem at the same time.

Can we of Fayette County afford the luxury of a continued school officials' fight at a cost of one million wasted dollars?

Can the people of Fayette County afford to launch into a two and one third million dollar building program without the advice of educational experts in the form of a county school survey?

You, as an individual, spending your own money, would not even consider investing in a large barn, for example, without knowing for sure whether it would fit your needs both present and future. Why consider spending your money on school building projects without

Blaine Thoroman Dies in Warren

Blaine Thoroman, 71, a former resident of Washington C. H., died last Friday in the Warren General Hospital. He had been in failing health for some time and was seriously ill for the past month.

A native of Peebles, Mr. Thoroman grew to manhood there and spent the early years of his married life here.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Icie Thoroman; a brother, C. H. Thoroman of Washington C. H.; two sisters, Miss Edna Thoroman of Peebles and Mrs. Beatrice Handley of Sacramento, Calif.; five children and several grand children.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Wyllie Funeral Home in Sink Camp Springs Interment was in the Locust Grove Cemetery between Sink Camp Springs and Peebles.

Man Fined $100, Jailed For Disorderly Conduct

Charles G. Rapp, 25, of 1208 S. Hinde St., was fined $100.00 and sentenced to 30 days in the Cincinnati Workhouse when he entered a plea of guilty to a disorderly conduct charge in Municipal Court Wednesday morning.

The charge was filed by city police.

During times of both war and peace we have seen waste and costs spending on the national level. We have felt helpless to do anything about it and have felt its effects in continually increasing income taxes.

This proposed million dollar "rat-hole stuffing" is local, you may have to pay it, but you can and certainly will do something about it.

You may rest assured there will be no let-up on our part to explore every possible means for preventing this waste in Fayette County.

Bloodmobile Coming

Thursday, it has been made plain that donors are not restricted to members of the Lions Clubs in Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Good Hope and Washington C. H. There are more than 250 Lions in the four clubs.

FAYETTE County's share of the operational costs of the regional blood bank for this year were set at $3,729.37. Mrs. Leonard K. R. R. Fayette County Red Cross chapter president, said.

Pledge cards have not been coming in as fast as had been hoped for, Mrs. Korn said, but she added that she and Mrs. Charles Shaper, the county blood program chairman, felt confident that the Lions would see to it that the quota, and more, was reached when the bloodmobile is here Thursday.

The Lions not only are being counted on to give blood themselves but also to recruit others, not members of any of the four clubs, to give.

Mrs. Korn and Mrs. Shaper explained that the pledge cards serve two purposes: 1. they give the bloodmobile staff and the volunteer workers here some idea of what to expect and 2. they provide appointments for time to give that cut to a minimum the time donors must wait.

The state of Utah was named after the Indian tribe of Utes.

'I'm Not Guilty' Lee Tells Mayor

Accused Held for Grand Jury Probe

WILMINGTON (Spec) — firmly proclaiming his innocence, Orville Lee, 39, was in jail today awaiting grand jury investigation of the murder of his sweetheart, Miss Anna Hester Cowin, 29, Wilmington, in the Union Bus Depot here last Saturday morning.

"I'm not guilty," Lee told Mayor Corwin C. Nichols at his preliminary arraignment on the first degree murder charge last Monday.

But the affidavit, signed by Police Chief Don Simmons, asserts that Lee "unlawfully, purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice, killed Anna H. Cowin," on July 28. He was held without bond.

Lee told the Mayor at the arraignment that he had been "on the up and up" since his release from the Cincinnati workhouse last fall—or rather that he had "just been drinking."

THE MAYOR reminded Lee of some correspondence the two had while Lee was serving his workhouse term in which Lee said he would go straight when he got out. "I have been," said Lee, adding that he had "just been drinking."

Mayor Nichols carefully read to Lee the affidavit filed against him by Chief Simmons. It charged him with killing the girl with whom he had frequently been seen cleaning the bus station.

He also read the penalty for first degree murder — death in the electric chair, unless mercy is recommended, in which case it is life imprisonment.

Prosecutor George L. Schilling, Sr., said he did not plan to have the Clinton County grand jury meet to consider the case until he has assembled all the evidence.

Boy Here Is Injured In Fall under Wagon

A 12-year-old North Side boy narrowly escaped serious injury at 6 p. m. Tuesday when he fell beneath a loaded haywagon on the John Loudner farm, Mark Rd.

Treated in Memorial Hospital for bruises on the entire left side of his body was Wesley Wilson, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Wilson, 427 Gibbs Ave.

The boy was riding on the front end of the haywagon which was being pulled in by a tractor operated by Macky McDonald, Leesburg Rd. He slipped from his perch and fell beneath a wheel on the left side of the heavy wagon which rolled over him, leaving tire marks from leg to shoulder.

The sheriff's office investigated the accident.

Mrs. Anna Caridas Funeral Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna G. Caridas, 42, who died in University Hospital in Columbus Sunday night, are to be held in the Grimes and Davidson Funeral Home, 2741 Cleveland Ave., at 1 p. m. Thursday.

Mrs. Caridas was a native of Washington C. H., the daughter of the late Police Chief and Mrs. Jack Wolfe. However, she has lived in Springfield and Columbus for about 20 years.

She is survived by her husband, Donald Caridas of Columbus; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Johnson of South Charleston; two grand children and a sister, Miss Jeanette Wolfe of Washington C. H. Her step-mother, Mrs. Ruth Wolfe, lives at 1037 Broadway here.

Burial is to be in Union Cemetery in Columbus.

PARTITION SUIT FILED

A civil suit in partition has been filed by Ralph Theobald and George H. Theobald in Common Pleas Court, asking appraisal and sale of 10 parcels of real estate in Fayette County, principally in Green Township and Washington C. H., which are a part of the estate of the late Frank S. Theobald.

Defendants in the action are Lena H. Theobald and 20 others, seven of them minors.

The plaintiffs affirm that each is entitled to undivided two-twenty-first parts of the 10 parcels and ask proceeds of sale be distributed among the heirs.

SUIT ASKS ALIMONY

Marjorie Kelley, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, has filed suit against Charles F. Kelley, Columbus, in Common Pleas Court, asking judgment for reasonable alimony and support for two minor children. She also asks that the defendant convey to her his interest in real estate in Madison Township.

DIVORCE ACTION FILED

Following dismissal of a divorce action brought against her, Nancy C. Evans has filed a similar suit against William R. Evans in Common Pleas Court. Mrs. Evans, who charges gross neglect and extreme cruelty, also asks alimony. The parties, who were married Feb. 14, 1956, in Richmond, Ind., have no children.
